JAIL TERMS AND WHIPPINGS FOR HOLLIDAYS

Roosevelt Would Seek Trade Pact With Dominion

New York Governor Says That If Elected President of United States He Will Invite Canadian Government to Consider List of Commodities For Fair Exchange on Which Tariff Bars Could Be Dropped

Canadian Press
Montreal, June 9.—A round-table conference between Canada and the United States to thresh out a trade agreement looms as a possibility should Franklin D. Roosevelt be elected President of the United States, according to an Albany dispatch to The Montreal Star from a staff correspondent to-day.

In an interview with The Star's correspondent, Governor Roosevelt said: "You in Canada have things we want, and we have things you want. I would say let us get together at a round-table conference and work out a practical system of fair exchange. Each country would still make its own tariff in the light of its own needs. You would make yours and we would make ours. But you have, say, $200,000,000 worth of commodities that we want and we have $200,000,000 worth of commodities you want. On those items we would lower the tariff bars. It would cost nobody anything, but it would get commodities moving and it would get men to work."

ST. LAWRENCE WATERWAY
On the question of the St. Lawrence waterway the New York governor had the following to say, according to The Star: "We want the power the St. Lawrence can develop. Obviously when you build a dam you have to build a canal, and if the two federal governments want to get together and construct a ship channel in that canal, it is no concern of ours."

"That has been our attitude in our negotiations both with the government of Ontario and the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission. And we are prepared to go a step further. We say we want the power. And we say to Ontario: If you are not ready at the moment to take on such a big job, we will generate, take just what you want and we will pay the entire cost of the development of all the rest until such time as you are ready to use it. Then, whenever Ontario wants it, she will simply say the word, and we will transfer to her the entire cost of the state of New York for the expenditures which it has made in developing her share, and we will immediately turn it over."

LT.-COL. HOSSIE, WINNIPEG, DIES

Winnipeg, June 9.—Lieut.-Col. W. A. Hossie, fifty-six, distinguished soldier and well known in Canadian military circles, died here to-day following a lengthy illness. He served overseas with the 43rd Battalion.

Rain Aids Fire Crews As Settlers Escape

Outbreaks Near Lake St. John, Que., Die Down; Not Known If Lives Lost in Ontario-Quebec Border Area

Canadian Press
Quebec, June 9.—A mist of steam joined the smoke clouds hovering over northern Quebec forests to-day as a steady rain beat down on the flames, a belated ally of the fatigued forces of volunteer fire fighters. Fires in the Lake St. John district were reported under control after several days of great destruction of valuable timber lands. Several settlements vanished in the wake of the roaring wall of flame that swept human beings and animals before it in a rush for their lives.

It was unknown here whether the rain had reached the Abitibi and Temiskaming districts, where fires for several days had been driving settlers from their homes.

Fire swept the tiny village of Taschereau yesterday, reducing three buildings to ashes.

MAKE WAY TO TOWN
Amos, Que., June 9.—With hair singed and clothing scorched from the blistering heat, northern Quebec forest fire refugees struggled into Amos to-day with tales of a wild flight from the rush of a wall of fire two miles wide.

BOARD ORDERS INQUIRY HELD

Trustees Compromise With Trustee Emery Seeking Abolition of Medical Service Committee Will Also Investigate Operations of Dental Department

When Trustee Victor Emery sought to secure the dismissal of the medical staff of the city public schools, consisting of a doctor and three nurses, for the purpose of reorganization, the board of school trustees, in session yesterday evening, compromised by appointing a committee of investigation.

On the recommendation of Trustee Emery the same committee will also investigate the operation of the school dental service consisting of a dentist and one nurse.

Trustee Emery will act as chairman of the investigating committee, the other members being Lieut.-Col. T. B. Donk, J. M. Campbell and George H. Deane, municipal school inspector.

The attempt of Trustee Emery to secure an immediate reorganization of the medical staff came as a climax to an intermittent debate on the question of medical treatment to children suffering injuries on school grounds.

A doctor's bill had been presented to the board by a parent, who had attempted to meet it, but because of depressed financial circumstances, had been compelled to seek assistance from the school board.

Trustee Emery pointed out that the injury sustained in this particular case had been a cut on the chin, which had required four stitches, an operation which, in his opinion, should have been done at home.

BROKERS END TERMS IN JAIL

Canadian Press
Toronto, June 9.—W. T. A. Shutt and James Heppelstone, members of the former brokerage firm of W. A. Moyley & Company, here, are no longer in custody at the Kingston penitentiary.

Shutt and Heppelstone were sentenced to two and one-half and three years respectively in penitentiary in October, 1930, when they pleaded guilty to the conspiracy charges brought against a number of prominent brokers at that time.

Release of the men was made known by attorneys who are suing the Moyley Company, Shutt and Heppelstone in the civil courts and were anxious to have them produced to give evidence.

Both men were eligible to apply to the Department of Justice at Ottawa for clemency when half their terms had expired.

MAYOR AWAITS INQUIRY RESULT

State Governor to Rule If Walker to Cease to Be New York Chief

Associated Press
Albany, N.Y., June 9.—The whole story of the financial transactions of Mayor James J. Walker, and Russell T. Sherwood, as they appear to Samuel Seabury, was to-day in the hands of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, who has said that a public official whose income is obviously far greater than his salary is obligated to explain the source of that income.

Stressing the fact he was acting, not as counsel to the Hofstadter committee of the Legislature, but as a private citizen, Mr. Seabury, in a letter accompanying data on the Walker case received by the governor, pointed to the evidence indicating the missing Sherwood had handled nearly $1,000,000 in five years and reiterated his charge that Sherwood was actually Mayor Walker's fiscal agent.

POLITICAL DYNAMITE
The Walker case, packed with potential political dynamite, was dropped on the New York State governor's doorstep yesterday evening. He indicated he would study the record before commenting. A decision as to whether Mr. Walker should be removed from office is expected to-day.

HIS POSITION AS MAYOR TESTED

Awaiting the ruling of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Governor of New York State, on the evidence brought out at the inquiry into the New York City administration is Mayor James J. Walker. The picture above was taken while the mayor, in fighting spirit, was answering questions asked at a recent sitting by Samuel Seabury, counsel to the investigating committee of the Legislature.

BONUS ARMY DECLINES RIDE

Jobless Veterans in Washington Refuse Police Offer of Trucks to Go Home

Associated Press
Washington, June 9.—Trucks furnished by the police rolled up to the United States "bonus" marchers' camp on schedule to-day, but not a single veteran at once accepted Police Superintendent Glassford's invitation to ride out of the city and head for home.

Instead, fortified by nearly $3,000 raised at a boxing benefit yesterday evening, most of the 8,000 or more veterans prepared to stay until, as Walter W. Waters, commander-in-chief, put it, the "bonus is paid."

The trucks continued to wait. There was no telling if some former soldiers would take the invitation to leave. Meanwhile, 350 new arrivals entered the encampments.

ONLY A SCARECROW
A large dummy stuffed with straw and dressed like a man was perched on top of a showman in one of the vacant buildings in which the men were quartered and under the "scarecrow" the sign, "the only man going home."

Two large trucks were driven up to the "scarecrow" and the street encampment to the derisive jeers of the 400 men.

To pay the bonus to all veterans of the Great War in the United States, as demanded by the campers here, would cost the United States $2,000,000,000.

Another Buxton Arrives; Record

Daughter Born This Morning. Puts Former Work Point Sergeant's Family in Lead Again With Fourteen Children All Born on Vancouver Island.

The spotlight turned back to large Vancouver Island families to-day.

Early this morning before most office workers were down town Percy H. Buxton of Esquimalt telephoned The Times to claim back the record it was feared he had lost when the search was being conducted some time ago.

"You can put in your paper," he said, "that Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Buxton have the largest and brightest all Vancouver Island family. We are sixteen now, not fifteen."

It was pointed out that Mrs. J. E. Williams of Wascana Street won the honors on the last day of the search with a family of fifteen children, the widowed mother making sixteen.

"Yes, but," Mr. Buxton argued, "we are claiming the record for the largest Vancouver Island family. Two of Mrs. Williams's children were born in Ontario. We have fourteen children now, eight boys, six girls, all born on Vancouver Island. A girl arrived last night. Mother and child doing well. You shall have that picture I promised as soon as possible."

Several families of thirteen born on Vancouver Island were previously reported but none to equal Mr. and Mrs. Buxton's family which now numbers fourteen children.

CHURCH SCORES LIQUOR SYSTEM

Presbyterian General Assembly Dissatisfied With Control in Canada

Canadian Press
London, Ont., June 9.—The Presbyterian Church in Canada expressed its dissatisfaction to-day with the government liquor control system. In passing the resolution, the General Assembly was not unanimous and Rev. S. Banks Nelson of Hamilton, Ont., urged there were insufficient delegates present to record such a far-reaching verdict.

A checkup at Okanagan showed about a third of the silver in circulation there was Canadian. Hereafter Canadian silver has not been discounted.

MAY CONSIDER NEW COURTHOUSE SITE

Dr. R. J. Manion Definitely Says Government Will Not Build Hotel on Government-Belleville Property

When the provincial government finally decides to go ahead with the proposed $1,000,000 law courts here, which in any event will not be before next year, it is possible that the site for the new structure may be at the southeastern corner of Government and Belleville Streets.

The property at this intersection is owned by the Dominion Government, having been acquired in the first place as a site for the erection of a Canadian National hotel in this city.

It was definitely learned with the arrival here of Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canada in the Dominion cabinet, that the Canadian National Railways has no intention of building a hotel in Victoria.

Dr. Manion, when questioned by newspapermen regarding Canadian National Railway hotel plans here, said: "I would not say that the Dominion Government is prepared to sell the property." The Minister of Railways was asked: "I see no reason why the railway company should not consider a sale of the property."

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE LAD

William Corney of Cowichan Lake Arrested After Death of Louis Martin

Special to The Times
Duncan, June 9.—Charged with manslaughter of Louis Martin of Cowichan Lake, William Corney of Cowichan Lake was arrested yesterday evening by Special Constable Frank Weir and was brought to Duncan by Corporal Alex. Mustart and Constable S. Service of the provincial police. He is expected to come up for preliminary hearing to-morrow.

It is alleged that Martin, a Russian, about forty years of age, died as a result of a blow in the face given by Corney, after an altercation on the shore of the lake, the body of the victim being found floating in the water.

It is stated that when Martin fell Corney returned to his work in a lot nearby, not realizing that Martin had suffered serious injury.

An autopsy and inquest will be held here to-day.

Beauharnois Needs Total of $32,000,000

Canadian Press
Montreal, June 9.—The Beauharnois Power Corporation Limited will require $32,000,000 to carry out its programme of construction and delivery of power until 1937, Arthur F. White, vice-president, presiding at the annual meeting here to-day, told the shareholders. He gave the amounts as follows:

Borrowings to date, $16,000,000; $6,500,000 necessary to complete the re-construction for the initial production, and $9,500,000 to cover interest on the temporary financing and other charges until 1937.

To-day's meeting was held largely in fulfillment of a technical obligation under the Companies Act. A new board will not be named until the company has passed through its pending re-organization.

LITTLE CHANGE IN FRASER LEVEL

Canadian Press
Mission, B.C., June 9.—High temperatures of yesterday failed to make much difference on the Fraser River freshet, the official gauge here to-day registering fifteen feet one inch, an increase of only one inch since noon yesterday. The level has been at the fifteen-foot mark since Monday. On Tuesday it rose to fifteen feet two inches, but dropped to fifteen feet yesterday afternoon. The river can rise to the twenty-one foot level before any danger of flooding on the lower mainland becomes imminent.

SILVER COINS PUT AT DISCOUNT

Associated Press
Seattle, June 9.—To protect themselves from wholesale operations of "money racketeers," Okanagan county banks to-day began discounting Canadian silver at the same rate as Canadian currency. In a statement to customers, the banks said that "racketeers have been active lately buying Canadian currency at discount on this side of the line, taking it into Canada and buying silver, which was brought back here and peddled at par." They were able to make from ten to twenty per cent.

A checkup at Okanagan showed about a third of the silver in circulation there was Canadian. Hereafter Canadian silver has not been discounted.

SAYS LANDS OF EMPIRE EQUAL

Britain Is Dominion Along With Rest, Thomas Tells Commons in London

Some of Conservative Members Mourn at Statement Involving Ireland

By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, June 9.—"Dominion status," the vexed phrase of past conferences, goes down hard.

Conservatives in the Commons murmured this afternoon when Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, "Dominion" Secretary, in a statement left the inference Britain was only a Dominion like the rest of the nations of the Commonwealth.

The point arose in a discussion of the new duties imposed by the Irish Free State. The minister admitted he had received protests from almost every British industry affected by the duties. "But we are a dominion," he said, and all he could do was to convey the representations to the representative of the Free State.

"Did the matter arise in the 'very friendly talk' you had with President de Valera?" queried James Macdonald, "Independent Labor" ranks, with a touch of irony.

"We never got within a million miles of it," returned Mr. Thomas in a tone which set the House roaring.

CONFERENCE RESOLUTION QUOTED

Earl Winterbottom pressed: "Are we to understand the official designation of His Majesty's government is that of a dominion?"

Mr. Thomas replied by referring to the declaration on equality of status drawn up by the Imperial Conference of 1926. He had only wished to indicate, he said, that the Irish Free State as a dominion was entitled to impose its own duties, to the neglect of this country's dominion?" asked Lord Winterbottom.

"We are associated in what is called the British Commonwealth of Nations," Mr. Thomas said.

"But surely we are not a dominion," said Sir Alfred Knox, Conservative. Conservative back-benchers supported him with a murmuring protest.

But the minister said nothing further.

Midland, Ont., Has $100,000 Fire

Canadian Press
Midland, Ont., June 9.—A mass of smouldering ruins was all that remained of a great lumber plant at Letherby, Terry and Nicholson pulpwood yard, destroyed by fire yesterday evening.

The blaze, believed to have been caused by the dropping of a cigarette butt, caused losses estimated at $100,000.

LUMBER AND CARS BURNED

Six-million Feet of Lumber Destroyed at Field, Ont.

Canadian Press
North Bay, Ont., June 9.—Six million feet of lumber and five box cars, three loaded and two partly loaded, were destroyed by fire which swept the east end of the Yagau Lumber Company's piling yard at Field, thirty-five miles west of here, to-day.

The fire is believed to have originated around a sawdust burner and was first noticed shortly after mid-night. For six hours every available man the Canadian National Railway, the Ontario Forestry Department and the lumber firm could assemble engaged in the battle. A stiff breeze made it impossible for the firefighters to do other than restrict the flames to one corner of the yard.

PLOT AGAINST CONFERENCE

London Express Says Other Peoples Want Ottawa Empire Gathering to Fail

Canadian Press
London, June 9.—The London Daily Express to-day said of a "wild plot" against the Ottawa conference.

The newspaper, chief organ of Lord Beaverbrook, Canadian-born, says, and says "free-trade crusader," declares evidence was accumulating on all sides that there was a definite world plot to wreck the conference, to which all nations of the British Commonwealth looked to help solve their joint economic problems.

Foreign nations, the Express said, were using every means of direct and indirect propaganda to sow seeds of discord between Great Britain and the Dominions.

MACLEAN ARTICLE QUOTED

The Express quoted an article in a Canadian magazine by Lieut.-Col. J. B. Maclean about alleged attempts to create discord between Canada and Great Britain. POLICE HOLD H. FLEISCHER

Purple Gangster Sought For Lindbergh Questioning Surrenders in Detroit

Associated Press
Detroit, June 9.—Harry Fleischer, sought for months in connection with the Lindbergh baby abduction, and Detroit's Collingwood Apartment massacre, surrendered to-day, arriving at police headquarters, accompanied by two lawyers.

Fleischer was taken to the office of Prosecutor Harry S. Toy. The prosecutor went into conference with Fleischer and his counsel, and said he would remain in conference for at least an hour.

MANY QUESTIONS READY
Trenton, N.J., June 9.—Lieut. Walter Goughlin of the state police telegraphed to Detroit authorities to-day for permission to send detectives there to question Harry Fleischer, who surrendered to-day, as to his possible connection with the Lindbergh baby abduction case.

Goughlin said future action in regard to Fleischer would depend on the results of this examination.

"JAFIE" IN BOSTON

Boston, June 9.—Dr. John F. Condon of New York, the "Jafie" of the Lindbergh baby abduction case, made what was apparently a surprise visit to Boston police headquarters to-day.

Dr. Condon was accompanied by Samuel Leon and Robert Coar, both New Jersey state police investigators. They arrived on a night boat from New York and walked to police headquarters.

"Jafie" said he had come to Boston to see the rogues' gallery and attempt to identify a man known as "John the German."

Coar did the talking for the trio and he said Dr. Condon felt sure he had identified "Jafie" as the man to whom he paid $50,000 in a New York graveyard for the return of the abducted son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, the body of whom later was found near the Lindbergh home.

Coar said there was no particular clue in Boston, and Dr. Condon had come here for the sole purpose of looking at the 15,000 pictures in the rogues' gallery, and the detectives wanted to view some fingerprints on file here.

Discuss Programme For Conference

London, June 9.—The government desires to make public the agenda of the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa before June 16, but is still awaiting replies from the Dominions.

Premier MacDonald gave this information to the Commons to-day. On June 16 the Ottawa conference will be debated in the Commons.

Bennett's Rebuke Stirs Discussion

Questions Asked Why Telegram to Jones Withheld From Committee

Premier Bennett's telegram containing a sharp rebuke to Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, whom he charged with trying to shift the blame for unsatisfactory relief administration in British Columbia on to the shoulders of the Dominion Government has been the subject of wide discussion in Victoria since its publication yesterday.

Its relationship to unemployment relief, affecting payments to the British Columbia Government, payments to municipalities and outstanding accounts of merchants was sharply contrasted with the promises of H. D. Twigg, chairman of the legislative committee which investigated unemployment, and those of Brigadier-General J. A. Clark that every document relevant to the subject would be made available.

It was pointed out the telegram dealt specifically with payments to municipalities, claiming apparently the provincial government had used funds for provincial purposes at the expense of the municipalities. Although this was (Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

Magistrate George Jay Passes Sentence on Young Thieves in Crowded Court and Says Stiff Sentence Needed

Long Sentences Made Concurrent

Eugene V. Colley, seventeen, and Robert John Martin, eighteen, will each serve terms of four years' imprisonment and receive ten lashes as the result of sentences imposed by Magistrate George Jay in the City Police Court to-day. Although they will only serve but four years, their total terms, running concurrently, amount to thirty eight years each.

Both were sentenced to four years on each of four counts of armed robbery, one of shooting to avoid arrest and one of breaking and entering and theft, running concurrently, and two years on each of seven convictions of stealing automobiles, which will also run concurrently. In addition to this, Martin was sentenced to one month on three counts of pointing a pistol at a person.

CROWDED COURTROOM
The sentences, delivered before a crowded courtroom closed the court proceeding against the two young thieves who last week created a sensation by their armed robbery, finally engaging in a running pistol fight with the police officers. Martin took his sentence with bowed head. Colley's sorrow face blanched.

Before the passage of the sentence, both Martin and Colley addressed the court. Martin said he realized his faults and was ready to serve his time and "go straight" when he was free again. He was sorry for the grief he had caused his people, he said. After voicing his agreement with the words of his companion, Colley stated he had something further to say.

"McKay helped us to get up-land, and we did not have to go to court and be put in the penitentiary. We gave him our guns at Admirals Road and he put them in the left pocket of the car," he said.

His statements were made in reference to Donald McKay, a watchman at a wharf in the Inner Harbor, who had been forced into their party into service by the pair through threats of violence. He dressed Colley's wound, provided breakfast and bought supplies for the pair.

Colley said he was the driver of the car in which the prisoners were captured at Koksilah by provincial police officers last Thursday.

WILL NOT PROCEED
Inspector McLeellan said the police were satisfied both McKay and Durrant had been forced into their part in the activities of the two by threats of violence and intend to take no action against either.

Following Colley's statement, the sentences were given by Magistrate Jay.

The cases before him were among the most serious he had ever tried, he said. With the exception of those crimes punishable by capital punishment, he said.

T. M'MILLAN FUNERAL HELD

Memory of M.P. Honored at Seaford, Ont.; Dominion Liberal Leader Attends

Seaford, Ont., June 9.—With prominent Parliamentarians and business men in attendance, the funeral of the late Thomas McMillan was held from the family residence to-day, with interment being made in the Seaford Cemetery.

Mr. McMillan, who was M.P. for South Huron, a Liberal, died in the hospital at Clinton, Ont., Tuesday from injuries sustained when he was kicked by a horse on his farm.

The service was conducted by Rev. C. C. Kaine of Seaford, assisted by Rev. D. Larkin of Toronto. The funeral was conducted under Masonic auspices and the impressive ritual of that order was carried out at the graveside.

Members of the Huron County Council attended the funeral in a body. Among the honorary pallbearers were Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal Party of Canada.

Referendum Proposal Will Come Up at Both Big Parties' Nomination Gatherings

Washington, June 9.—Prohibition, the unbroken guest of United States politics for a decade, has started for the Chicago conventions with main entrance tickets and a seat on the platform.

The White House took occasion yesterday evening to repudiate reports that President Hoover had approved a referendum plank for the Republican Party, but other leaders of the party have indicated such a plank is receiving approbative consideration.

James H. Garfield, who is writing the platform, has declined to discuss it. Governor Roosevelt of New York, in the meantime, has announced that he believed the Democratic Party which he hopes to lead as presidential candidate in November, would "clearly indicate" in its platform a way to abolish all the people could vote "yes" or "no" on the question: "Shall the 18th amendment be repealed?"

The referendum under the McAdoo suggestion would be advisory. He believes it is the quickest possible solution of the problem.

Members of the Huron County Council attended the funeral in a body. Among the honorary pallbearers were Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal Party of Canada.

CHILEAN JUNTA TAKES OVER BANK

First of Socialist Policies Put Into Operation; Some Taxes Suspended

Santiago, Chile, June 9.—Chile's new government began to put its Socialist policies into operation to-day. The Central Bank, created in 1926, was taken over and the board of directors dissolved.

The provincial authorities were directed to suspend taxes on properties whose owners have not enough money to pay them.

Minister of Education was informed by the Minister of Finance that the government would be "direct education toward the people" in order to form a public conscience which will support the new Socialist republic.

The junta government is to name a new board which will operate the banks along lines similar to those of the Central Bank.

If possible the new state bank and the national savings bank system will be operated jointly as adjuncts of the Ministry of Finance. Temporary savings banks will be under the direction of a group appointed by the junta.

By taking over the Central Bank the government assumes the function of issuing currency and supervising the redemption of paper from public and private banks.

Workers of Chile are ready to take up arms in support of the new Socialist government.

Labor groups, after two mass meetings yesterday evening, submitted to the government a proposal for the formation of a Republican Socialist guard composed of workers, who would be armed. The guard would assist the junta, headed by Carlos Dávila, at any time it needed such aid.

The junta, which earlier had promised a strong of laboring people the best of the workers would be its first concern, said it would give consideration to the plan for armed assistance.

JAIL TERMS AND WHIPPINGS FOR HOLD-UPS

ment they were the gravest that could be laid against anyone.

Reviewing the charges the magistrate noted the pair were guilty of robbery, with violence, a crime for which the maximum penalty was life imprisonment, and whipping. That of shooting to avoid arrest carried a similar penalty.

In addition to this they were liable in terms of from one to seven years for the theft of automobiles. They were guilty of that offence in seven cases.

The other charge of which both were admittedly guilty was that of breaking and entering and theft. That carried a sentence up to fourteen years. In addition to this Martin was guilty of the offence of pointing a gun at a person.

The story of the wrong-doing of the boys showed it was not a case of sudden temptation. Their deeds had been premeditated.

He sketched their activities to show how they had carefully selected automatics and then systematically robbed various persons.

"This offence of holding up people is dangerous and cowardly," the magistrate continued, adding those who perpetrated it merited the severest punishment not only for the crime against themselves, but as an example to those who might follow.

"I have considered this and feel they deserve very severe punishment, with whipping." Magistrate Jay continued.

He then passed sentence, giving the pair four years running concurrently for each of the armed robbery, attempted robbery shooting with the intention to prevent apprehension and breaking and entering. For the theft of cars he imposed two years in each case running concurrently.

In addition he ordered them to be whipped one in the prison confines. In the attendance of the health authorities with ten lashes.

Martin was also sentenced to one month, running concurrently, for pointing a gun.

When the case was brought up, W. A. Brethour, defence counsel, rose to address the attitudinal court. It was true there had been very serious crimes committed, but it should be taken into consideration that the boys had come forward and admitted guilt without causing undue costs. They were just seventeen and eighteen years old, he remarked, was also reported to be of good demeanor, although he had served a previous term in the industrial school.

EMPHASIZED SERIOUSNESS
C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, emphasized the seriousness of the matter. People, he said, had a right to carry on their lawful business without being threatened by fire arms. The offence involved had been particularly free of that.

"These boys premeditated their crimes," he continued, reminding the court they had selected their guns with care in their robbery of E. E. Wilson's store.

Any man who threatened another with a gun and took his goods was deserving of the severest punishment. He spoke of the shooting which occurred between them and the police a week ago yesterday evening and reminded the court of the fact that they had not killed the man, he said.

providing a satisfactory offer were made for the property," he said.

Dr. Manion knows nothing of any negotiations that might lead to the acquisition of this admirably situated site for the new courthouse by the B.C. Government. There have been rumors in circulation that the provincial administration has looked upon this property as an ideally suitable site for the type of structure which it is proposed to erect here.

"I know nothing about it." That is a provincial Government matter," said Dr. Manion.

The courthouse project is reported to have been sidetracked because there was no money available in the Provincial Government treasury for such luxuries as law courts buildings, although the sum of $100,000 has been earmarked for preliminary work in connection with the building proposals.

Various sites have been mentioned for the location of the courthouse, including the old cathedral property bounded by Burrard, Blanshard and Courtney, and also the area on Government Street between the old and new bridges.

If the latter site was selected, however, the building would lose some of its majesty in the background of the legislative body. On the other hand the building would stand out as a distinguishing landmark if it was erected on the corner facing the Inner Harbor.

Alternative plans have been prepared, but that is as far as the scheme has gone.

Dr. Manion had an audience this morning with Hon. Rolf W. Bruhn, Minister of Public Works. The nature of the conference was not disclosed.

DEBT POSITION OF U.S. STATED

Government Holds Public Against Cancellation of Sums Owed By Europe

By KEN CLARK, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent
Washington, June 9.—The continued and increasing pressure for some action on the problem of war debts and reparations has moved the United States Government to reiterate its position as follows:

First—It refuses to admit the connection between war debts and reparations, since it collects no reparations.

Second—United States' public sentiment would not support cancellation of war debts.

Nations receiving reparations have been informed the United States will not countenance any plan which contemplates the remission of reparations or cancellation of war debts.

Outwardly Washington still maintains the stand adopted when it first became clear the necessities of Europe demanded something be done, namely, that settlement of the reparations question was something to be attempted by the powers directly interested.

Now, in the face of the approaching Lausanne conference, London reports that Secretary of State Stimson had told Sir Ronald Lindsay, British Ambassador here, he did not approve complete cancellation of Germany's payments in reparations have called forth another outline of the position.

Observers point out that in consideration of the resolution of Congress last December declaring against cancellation or reduction of war debts and the approaching elections, would be difficult for the executive branch to admit to any change of opinion.

SEIZURE CASE IS ADJOURNED

Trial of Capt. John Sunich of United States fishing schooner St. Patrick, seized on August 30, 1929, was adjourned in the Provincial Police Court to-day after testimony had been given by T. Taylor, license clerk in the fisheries office, Vancouver, who stated the master of the boat had no license to fish in the area in which he was taken.

The case will be continued to-morrow morning at 11:30 o'clock. Mr. H. Moore appeared on behalf of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and Stuart Henderson for the accused.

Sunich is charged with unlawfully using a purse seine in Canadian waters.

Disby with the searing heat of the approaching fire and stumbling with fatigue, the settlers hurried through the brush with fleeing animals beside them. Flashed by a brisk wind that at times reached gale velocity, the forest fire leaped wide clearings and raced through the brush almost as fast as a man could run.

Properties of the Hollinger, Nipissing and Mining Corporation were destroyed and the home buildings were partly destroyed.

BY NARROW MARGIN
T. J. Shaughnessy of the Nipissing Company said he and his men had made a wild dash for life. By the narrowest of margins they had reached a sixty-six-foot clearing on the Treadwell-Yukon property and flung themselves on the ground, their clothing smoking and their hair singed. With a roar the fire caught up with them and leaped the clearing. The inferno passed on and they were able to pick their way through the ruins in another direction and make their escape.

Amos was wondering to-day if any lives had been lost. There were many lone trappers and prospectors in the district and there was no means of checking their safety.

FIRES IN ONTARIO

Toronto, June 9.—Timber limits of northern Ontario and Quebec to-day lay in the path of bush fires.

Ontario's greatest hazard at the present time was reported in the northwestern centres around the head of the lakes, with minor blazes in the Sault Ste. Marie district.

U.S. LUMBER FOR BRITISH

Associated Press
Seattle, June 9.—Phillip M. Crawford, assistant district agent here for the United States Department of Commerce, said today that "with no difference in price on Canadian lumber, United States lumber, the Liverpool buyers are reported to be inclined in favor of the United States product."

He said the United States consul at Liverpool had reported increased inquiries for United States lumber and quoted the London Timber Trades Journal last month as saying:

"In spite of the ten per cent preference (to Canada) United States Douglas fir is more than holding its own in competition with Canadian shipments, especially as in clear the United States is able to supply this description much more freely than the Canadians."

Prices are reported firm on United States hardwood with stocks on hand much depleted.

End Piles Quick

No Salves—No Cutting
Your itching, bleeding, protruding piles will go when you actually remove the cause—bad blood circulation in the weak, flabby parts—not one minute before. Salves or cutting can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, and restores the almost dead parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record right in this city, that Macfarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores say one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your pile agony or money back.

ANTICIPATING B.C. ELECTION

Premier's Declaration No Contest Planned Fails to Halt Preparations

Despite Premier Tomin's declaration on his recent return from Ottawa that there will be no provincial general election in British Columbia this year, nominations are being made in some constituencies of the province and non-naming conventions have been called in others.

Opinions are freely voiced that despite Premier Tomin's present views on the subject circumstances may cause him to change his mind or pressure may be brought from within his party ranks which may force an early contest.

At Keesee-Slocan Liberals have named Capt. Sid Leary who ran Capt. James Fitzsimmons a close race, only decided on an issue of spoiled ballots, to carry their colors this year. The nomination was made at an enthusiastic meeting with 115 delegates present. A convention will be held at Nakup this evening. A convention was to have been held at Lillooet yesterday, but has been indefinitely postponed.

T. D. Pattullo, Liberal leader, to-day had some comments to make on the Premier's declaration of no election this year.

"The Premier says that anyone who suggests an election this year ought to have his head examined," the Liberal leader said. "It seems clear that this reflection of the Premier's was superinduced by the fact that he came back from the east empty-handed. In any event, it is need to go to the expense of examining the government's cranium—everybody knows except the government."

In his judgment, the public would be wise to force this government, in election rather than to sit quiescently and wait for the effluxion of time, to compel the government to submit itself to the electorate. The longer the delay the worse the situation will be.

To-day the premier is talking upon the Alaska-Yukon Highway, notwithstanding the innumerable immediately practical matters requiring attention. The government has clearly demonstrated that it lacks background and perspective.

"There is a job ahead, and the sooner it is adequately tackled, the better for the public welfare."

John Henderson Brown of Vancouver, mill construction engineer, supported the views of Mr. Rice as to required time to reconstruct the mill. Yesterday afternoon Gustav Wirtanen, engineer at the mill, described the electrical output of the plant and stated that the contract with the B.C. Electric Railway Company, on a basis of conservative operation on waste steam and by-product fuel, would earn an annual revenue of $17,500 above the requirements of the mill. He also described great economies in operation, which had been effected shortly before the destruction of the mill.

L. W. Campbell, chairman of accountants of the Cameron Company, yesterday produced the monthly accounts of the company for study by the jury.

MILL ENJOYED UNIQUE STATUS

Reconstruction of Plant Required Eight Months, Experts State

Reconstruction of the Cameron mill, destroyed by fire in February, 1931, would require at least eight months, Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald and a special jury were told this morning in Supreme Court by Denison E. Rice, expert mill construction engineer of Seattle. The evidence is expected to be one of the key factors in the action of the Cameron Lumber Company for application to recover approximately $28,000 from a group of insurance companies, to offset loss of fixed operating and overhead charges. E. C. Mayers, K.C., is appearing for the plaintiffs and Alfred Bull for the defendant companies.

Most of this morning's session was devoted to securing from A. W. Miller, secretary-treasurer and sales manager of the Cameron Company a review of the operations of the company. He described the extensive stock and the cause why such large supplies were necessary, told of production of special purposes and described the importance of by-products in the economical operation of a mill. The mill was raised at a daily capacity of 140,000 board feet.

Mr. Miller stated that it would be improper to classify the Cameron mill with ordinary lumber plants, there being a number of unusual factors, such as long-term contracts with national concerns, which gave the company a special status. Such items as production of cross-arms for the Northern Electric Company, operation of a box factory to handle contracts with the Canadian Explosives Limited for special powder boxes, a planing mill and a specialized market for certain types of material, gave the mill a unique standing. In addition the Cameron mill had enjoyed a very satisfactory local market, which at times absorbed up to 1,000,000 feet of lumber monthly, and a number of contracts with national concerns, which gave the company a special status.

LICENSES FOR SLOT MACHINES

Canadian Press

Vancouver, June 9.—Operation of slot machines, which give out tokens or "slugs" in addition to merchandise, is to be permitted in Vancouver, and the machines are to be licensed by civic authorities.

This, in effect, was the decision of the civic finance committee yesterday afternoon when aldermen accepted a report from City Solicitor J. B. Williams that the city had no power to discriminate between different types of machines. His ruling he based on a decision of the Supreme Court of Canada, which held that a slot machine was not an illegal device until an illegal transaction was made through its operations.

Although the city has not been licensing these machines, following their prohibition in September, 1921, by by-law amendment, there have been at least 200 or 250 operating in the city for months without any license. The license rate is $25 for the first machine, and $2 for each additional machine.

Government Troops Move Northward Against Bands in Revolt

Associated Press

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, June 9.—The government of President Mejia Cordero was mobilizing its regular army troops and pushing them northward hastily to-day to put down a revolt in which more than three-score were slain yesterday.

The revolt, which centred to-day around the Espiritu Santo Mountains and was moving northward into the department of Cortes, is the outcome of a bitter political campaign which already has reached fever heat, and the elections will not be held until next October.

The government said the revolutionists were carrying the banners of Gen. Tuburcio Carías Andino, Nationalist candidate for the presidency, although Gen. Carías issued a statement yesterday condemning the revolt.

FOURTEEN DEATHS BLAMED ON THUGS

Associated Press

Cleveland, O., June 9.—Evidence that a charge of nitroglycerine, set off by amateur safecrackers, may have caused the disastrous Ellington Apartments fire was being investigated to-day while the death toll mounted.

The eleventh body, that of an unidentified elderly woman, was taken from the debris early to-day. Firemen kept digging in the ruins for the bodies of three women still listed as missing.

NEW BASES FOR NATIONS SEEN

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, June 9.—Government partisanship was breaking down in the face of economic difficulties, and some new system must be devised, J. W. Daffoe, editor-in-chief of The Winnipeg Free Press, told delegates to the third Canadian conference on social work here yesterday.

A new conception of the state in relation to the individual was taking possession of the mind of the people, Mr. Daffoe said. It was not generally appreciated how revolutionary this conception was, nor were its ultimate consequences known.

Montreal, June 9.—A plan to cultivate celery in Canada between June and October, transplant it in Bermuda and harvest it for export to Canada in February, was made known yesterday by W. R. Evans, marketing adviser to the Bermuda Department of Agriculture. It is understood an expert will arrive in Montreal within the next few days to plant the first seeds. The scheme would advance the opening of celery shipments from Bermuda to Canada by two or three months.

Kamloops, June 9.—Karl Fredericks, a German artillery officer in the Great War who came in peace-time to Canada to trap game and prospect for gold, was free to-day for the first time in two years—his name cleared of the stigma that is attached to murderers.

A jury yesterday—the third that had tried his case—found Fredericks not guilty of killing two fellow prospectors in the lonely Trembleur Lake district two years ago this month. The thirty-two-year-old Tronton was acquitted.

Since Max Westphal and Herman Peters died and were buried on the far north shore of Trembleur Lake in June, 1930, and Fredericks, their companion, returned alone to civilization, the former German soldier had been under indictment for murder.

Through three trials and an existence of several weeks in Okalla prison's death cell, Fredericks maintained that Peters had shot and killed Westphal and committed suicide. Surly because he wanted to return south when neither Westphal nor Fredericks was willing, Peters had run wild with his gun, the survivor testified.

Fredericks said Peters had shot at him, too, but he dropped to the ground unhurt and Peters believed he was dead. When it was over Fredericks buried the two bodies and returned to Prince George, where he would be blamed for the double killing.

The first jury that tried Fredericks disagreed on a verdict. The second found him guilty last September and he was sentenced to be hanged in December, but his appeal for a new trial was granted on ground that a statement he had made in German at the time of his arrest had been presented erroneously to the jury.

BRITISH BEER TAX APPROVED

Canadian Press

London, June 9.—Efforts of back-bench Conservatives to secure a reduction in the beer tax failed yesterday evening when the Commons turned back their proposed budgetary amendment by a vote of 301 to 71.

Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told the House defeat of the government on so important a part of the budget would impair Great Britain's authority at the forthcoming Lausanne conference.

The Exchequer, he said, could not afford a loss of $10,000 by remission of part of the tax.

PORT ALBERNI MAN SHOT BIG COUGAR

Canadian Press

Port Alberni, June 9.—One of the biggest cougars shot in the district for some time was brought into town by Jim Blower and his son on Monday. The animal was killed in the vicinity of Taylor River, near Sproat Lake, on Saturday. It was a male, in prime condition, eight feet from nose to tail.

BRITISH BY-ELECTION

London, June 9.—(Canadian Press)

Bracewell Smith, Conservative, yesterday won the Dulwich, Camberwell, by-election. The vote was: B. Smith, Conservative, 12,342; C. R. Cooke-Taylor, Liberal, 3,998; Mrs. Helen Brentnrich, Labor, 3,995. The result in this traditionally Conservative London borough reduced the Conservative majority by 6,661 votes. The majority of the last member, Sir Frederick Hall, who died recently, was 17,005. Smith's majority over the Liberal yesterday was 8,344.

INQUIRY HELD IN TORONTO

Canadian Press

Toronto, June 9.—That a former controller of Toronto received $13,000 in bribes from the Home Bank before it closed was an assertion made yesterday by Neil MacMillan, former civic employee, in testimony before Judge J. H. Denton, who is investigating charges of graft in local politics made by William J. Ahire.

Mr. MacMillan swore $70,000 had been paid by the Home Bank to city officials for use of the city's funds for "window dressing." He had been able to trace only $30,000 to a specific receipt, Mr. MacMillan said.

"I hope the press will not claim anything has been proved. We have not heard the other side at all," said Judge Denton at the close of yesterday's session. The inquiry was adjourned until June 15.

SCOTTISH CENSUS

Canadian Press

Glasgow, Scotland, June 9.—(Canadian Press)—A fifth of the total population of Scotland is concentrated in Glasgow, the decennial census figures, now made public, show. The population of Glasgow is given as 1,000,000, with 107 females for each 100 males. In Edinburgh the women outnumber the men by 12 to 10.

HOOVER SILENT ON LIQUOR PLAN

Associated Press

Washington, June 9.—Whatever Republicans on Capitol Hill might believe to be the case, it was declared emphatically at the White House yesterday evening that President Hoover had no prohibition resubmission plan submitted to him and had agreed to none.

This assertion was occasioned by word that threaded its way among Congressional Republicans late in the day to the effect that the President had sanctioned a resubmission position for the party platform.

VEREGIN STILL DIRECTS COLONIES

Canadian Press

Regina, June 9.—According to The Star, Peter Veregin, even if he remains in a penitentiary for the full term he received on his recent conviction of perjury, will supervise the extensive business enterprises of his people.

That information was given to The Star by J. P. Shukin of Regina, B.C., first vice-president of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, of which Veregin is titular head.

In an interview with Shukin, The Star learned he intended to carry on, but only under the supervision of Veregin. Should the latter remain in confinement, he added, arrangements would make it necessary for him to see Veregin in his cell from time to time. He made it quite clear the present leader would not be deposed in favor of himself or any other followers.

WAR'S OUTBREAK IS RECALLED

Col. W. W. Foster Describes Retreat From Mons to Legion

An address on the early days of the Great War, and the strategy of the British command during the retreat from Mons, was given before the Britannia branch of the Canadian Legion Tuesday evening by Col. W. W. Foster, second vice-president of the Dominion Command of the Canadian Legion.

Colonel Foster described the events which preceded the British entry into the struggle, declaring the German invasion of Belgium had been an essential part of a prepared plan to violate pledges of maintenance of the neutrality of Belgium. That policy had been the direct cause of Britain's entry into the struggle.

The German high command had been misinformed as to the value of the contribution the British Empire would be able to make towards prosecution of a struggle in Europe. The British contingent had been of vital value to the French in their retreat, the British corps at Le Cateau having defended that position with such vigor as to delay the German advance for more than thirty-six hours, Col. Foster pointed out.

STUDY PLANKS OF PLATFORM

The Victoria committee of the National Council of British Columbia Tuesday evening at Amphion Hall considered a tentative platform of policy which may later be submitted to a convention to be held in the near future. The speakers included P. J. Sinnott, Capt. R. P. Matheson, R. J. McFarlane, of Gordon Head and J. S. Pudney. A. J. Morley presided.

The platform, if adopted, will call for redistribution, consolidation of constituencies, reduction of members of the Legislature, limitation of the number of cabinet ministers, readjustment of various departments of government, the question of dispensing with the services of a Lieutenant-Governor, curtailment of expenditures, nonpatronage, wider distribution and employment of labor by organized effort of a constructive nature, settlement of community areas, fair prices to producers by marketing facilities for producers and users, conservation and develop-

TRAVELS OVER 10,000 MILES

Frederic A. Shaffer, Arizona Lawyer, Visited Eastern Districts Before Coming West

Found Spirit of Courage and Leadership With Rotary Ever Advancing

Fresh from attending half a dozen district conferences in the east as special representative of the board of directors, Frederic A. Shaffer, Globe, Arizona, director of Rotary International, reached Victoria yesterday afternoon, having traveled since April 20 over 10,000 miles.

On his tour Mr. Shaffer visited McKeessport, Pa.; Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; Keene, New Hampshire; Boston, Mass.; Lewiston, Maine; Quebec and Kentville, N.S.

"Rotary is continuing to advance, regardless of conditions," said Mr. Shaffer, following his arrival in Victoria.

"I found a spirit of courage and leadership wherever I went," he added.

"It was remarkable, particularly what I witnessed in the steel area of Pennsylvania, a district but recently torn by strikes. Indeed, I marvel at the spirit and courage that Rotary is showing."

Mr. Shaffer spoke pleasantly of his visit to the eastern Canadian provinces of Quebec and Nova Scotia.

"It was a splendid time in the Annapolis Valley in Nova Scotia and I will say that the country looked gorgeous. The Canadian Rockies are also at their best at this season of the year," declared Mr. Shaffer, who visited Banff on his way west.

But for the fact that the April district conference in Victoria was cancelled on account of the present session of the International Assembly, Mr. Shaffer said he would have been here two months ago.

Following the legal profession in Globe, Arizona, Mr. Shaffer joined the Rotary Club of that city in 1922, and subsequently served as president and a member of the board of directors.

He attended the Rotary International conventions in Los Angeles, Ostend, Minneapolis, Dallas and Vienna.

In 1928 and the following year he was governor of the 43rd Rotary district.

At the left, Mr. William J. Rennie; below, Mr. John T. Taylor, who commenced partnership in the baking business in Victoria in the year 1890.

Mayor of Montreal Accepts From City Picture of 1888 Council in Session

Hon. Fernand Rinfret, mayor of Montreal, has advised Mayor Leeming that the Montreal City Council will be pleased to accept the gift of a framed picture of the Montreal City Council in session in the year 1888, at present part of the gallery in the City Hall chamber here.

The picture has held an honored position at the City Hall for some years, and the City Council, under the impression that it would be greatly valued by Montreal, wrote offering it to the Quebec city.

In his message Mayor Rinfret referred to the amicable relations that had always existed and that he hoped would continue between Montreal and Victoria.

Hon. Mr. Rinfret is a former Secretary of State for Canada. He was recently elected mayor of Montreal by a large majority over Camillien Houde.

Luxton

A satisfactory annual meeting of Luxton Hall was held Monday evening to receive the special report of the building committee and the report of activities for the year. A. Hankin presided.

Itemized statements were presented by the secretary, Mrs. Heath, of moneys expended for lumber and labor for the rebuilding of the hall, showing $690 had been expended, with a debt still owing of $420, this including a bill for lumber of $140 and $280 for debentures that were sold last summer to raise money. All present expressed pleasure at such a satisfactory financial situation, and votes of thanks were passed to W. Heath, who had, with assistance of some residents, transformed the old building into a new, modern hall, equipped for basketball and dancing, and with a card room attached and necessary kitchen arrangements. A vote of thanks was also passed to the following, who had made handsome donations: Hon. R. H. Pooley, E. Butt, J. M. Campbell and C. E. Whitney-Griffith.

The matter of insurance for the building was left in the hands of the secretary.

There was unanimous re-election of the hall committee as follows: Mrs. W. Heath, secretary; J. G. Crosby and Norman Rhode.

L. B. Matthews, principal of the Happy Valley School, was honored Monday evening when members of the local athletic club and friends invaded his home with a jolly surprise party. Mr. Matthews was presented with a signet ring from the assembled guests by Norman Rhode, who lauded the efforts of Mr. Matthews in his efforts in instituting the club and loyal support to same at all times. Mr. Matthews suitably responded. The self-invited guests were Misses Mary McKay, Doris Anderson, Amy Heath, Gladys Robinson, Phyllis Bell, Olive Bell, Eileen and Verna Smith, Messrs. Neil McKay, Bertram Shields, Mickey and Norman Rhode, Douglas Bell, Red McMillan, Ed. Tuleidge, Edwin Anderson, Vic Stetson, Len Muir, Ralph Pontious and Sonny Poirer. Refreshments were served at the close by the lady guests.

CONFIDENCE IN CANADA GROWS

Evidence of Betterment Noted By W. S. Fallis of Montreal on Tour Across Country

Says Bacon and Butter Markets Could Be Developed Enormously

"Some evidence of betterment is noticeable all along the line," cheerfully declared W. S. Fallis, chairman of the Sherwin Williams Company of Canada Ltd. and former president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, on his arrival at the Empress Hotel yesterday from Montreal.

"People are viewing the situation with more confidence than was the case a year ago, chiefly because of more promising crop conditions, which after all is the underlying basis of our prosperity," he continued.

"In the business and industrial field it is a period of waiting and working determinedly to bring about improved conditions."

SAW COUNTRY GROW UP

"I have seen this country grow from 3,000,000 to over 10,000,000 in population and my confidence in Canada is just as great as it ever was. All we need is men with vision and determination to get back to the farms. This rushing into business and professions has had the effect of depleting the farms of the younger element which should have been developed to carry on the agricultural industry."

There would always be a demand for Canadian wheat in the British Isles, he asserted. Markets, he said, were available and should be developed. The Imperial Economic Conference should work out plans for the betterment of trade between the countries of the empire, said Mr. Fallis.

EIGHTY ROUND TRIPS

Mr. Fallis stated that forty-two years had passed since he paid his first visit to Victoria and within that period he has made eighty round transcontinental trips. He has been in the habit of making regular business trips to Victoria, but on this occasion he came to the Coast with Mrs. Fallis on a holiday.

"For the first time in my forty-five years' business experience I can now truthfully say that I am on a vacation," he concluded.

WIVES BLAMED FOR TROUBLES

Defeat Own Ends When They Fail to Live Within Income,
Says Professor

Philadelphia, June 9.—Wives who fail to live within their husbands' incomes not only reduced the efficiency of their mates, but make them prone to accidents, it was stated Tuesday by Prof. Rexford B. Hersey of the University of Pennsylvania.

In a four-year survey of workers' emotions in shop and home, Prof. Hersey estimated that friction, arising from living beyond their incomes, exists in the homes of 75 per cent of the toilers who are between twenty and fifty years of age.

"A hard thing for a woman to learn is that she usually defeats her own end when she fails to live within her husband's income," he said. "Instead of putting him into a psychological mood where he will be more efficient, she is really liable to make him less capable and prone to accidents."

The unemployed at Leigh, Lancashire, have been granted free use of the bowling green on four afternoons a week by the watch committee.

Carbon Dioxide Found on Planet

By F. B. COLTON
Associated Press Science Writer
Washington, June 9.—Possible evidence of life on the planet Venus—discovery that carbon dioxide is "probably present in large amounts in the planet's atmosphere—was announced yesterday by the Carnegie Institution of Washington.

Carbon dioxide is essential to life as we know it on earth, especially plant life. It is, incidentally, the gas used in making soda water. Discovery of the gas on Venus is no sure indication life exists there, the announcement said, but does show one of the conditions essential to life seems to be present.

Salt Spring

Ganges, June 9.—Major A. Rowan returned to Vancouver on Tuesday, after spending the week-end at his summer home at Ganges.

C. Nelson of Ganges is a patient in the Lady Minto Hospital, having dislocated his knee.

Mrs. Eustace Maude, of Mayne Island, is visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Capt. and Mrs. George Maude, at Fulford Harbor.

Mrs. J. B. Farquhar, of Vancouver, is guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Crofton, Ganges.

Miss F. Grave has arrived at Ganges from Vancouver to spend a month at Harbor House, Ganges.

STROLLS UPSIDE DOWN ON CEILING

Crowds gasped when J. D. Pate, young Hollywood, Calif., stunt man, walked upside down 300 feet in the air between two arcades buildings in downtown Los Angeles. In the above photo, made with telephoto lens and search light illumination, Pate is seen taking his hair-raising stroll on the underside of the roof. He had rubber suction cups built in the soles and heels of his shoes.

WED TO-DAY AT CATHEDRAL

Miss Winnifred Nonna Anderson and Mr. M. McCurdy Married at Christ Church

At 2.30 o'clock this afternoon, Rev. Archdeacon E. P. Laycock united in marriage at Christ Church Cathedral, Winnifred Nonna, daughter of Mr. H. Anderson of Bamerton and the late Mrs. Anderson, and Mr. William Melville McCurdy of Vancouver, son of the late Mr. A. W. McCurdy and of Mrs. McCurdy of Malahat Park, Vancouver Island.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and made a charming picture in her wedding gown of ivory crepe-back satin, the bodice of which was fashioned with short, puff sleeves and roll collar while the skirt was long and flaring. Her veil of soft white tulle was arranged with simplicity on her head and was held in place with a strand of orange blossoms reaching from ear to ear at the nape of her neck while small clusters of the blossoms fell over each ear. Her bouquet was a graceful arrangement of roses and lilies of the valley.

Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. J. H. McIntosh, whose frock was of shell pink spotted net with which she wore a hat of silk moiré and carried a bouquet of blue delphiniums, larkspur and pale pink gladioli.

Mr. J. H. McIntosh supported the groom.

Following the ceremony at the cathedral, a reception at which about fifty guests were present was held at "Westward Ho," the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Tomlin, Woodley Road. Mr. and Mrs. McCurdy left on the 3.30 o'clock boat for Seattle en route to spend their honeymoon at an unannounced destination. They will later make their home in Vancouver.

GARDEN PARTY GREAT SUCCESS

I.O.D.E. Members and Friends Spend Day at Home of Hon. and Mrs. S. L. Howe

The garden party yesterday at the home of Hon. S. L. Howe, Mrs. Howe, held under the auspices of the H.M.S. Resolution Chapter I.O.D.E., was a great success. Ideal weather favored the affair, which was patronized by a large number of visitors who enjoyed the beauty of the surroundings in union with the many attractions that arranged for the pleasure of the guests.

Mrs. S. L. Howe, assisted by Miss Jean McLaren, regent of H.M.S. Resolution Chapter I.O.D.E., received the guests on the terrace in front of the home. Mrs. R. C. Farrow and Miss Doris Holmes were at the receipt of the guests. The photograph of the Combe had charge of the photograph stall; Mrs. S. M. Oliver received the pennies which were laid on large lot; Mrs. Andrew MacKenzie and Miss Ian MacKenzie sold home made candy; and Mrs. R. D. Harvey had charge of the contest in which a beautiful sketch of the garden painted by Mr. T. S. Gore was the prize. Mrs. E. A. Musgrave was in charge of the clock golf. Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Bayfield assisted the contest. Mrs. Bayfield had a peep into the future.

Tea was served under an awning on the terrace overlooking the lawn and from which a wonderful panorama of Oak Bay and the adjacent islands might be had. The table was arranged with a crystal bowl of lupin and verian, and was presided over by Mrs. Buck and Mrs. Macdonald Adams. Miss Daisy Borrowman contributed a graceful and spirited gypsy dance, and Scottish dances, including the "Swallowtail" and "The Red Shoe," were given by the pupils of Miss Adeline Grant. The pipers were Ian Duncan and Lillian Grant.

Mrs. Howe was presented with a corsage of roses and pink sweet peas by the members of the chapter. Little Miss Marjorie McKenzie drew the tickets for the contests.

ROTARY GIRLS ARE EFFICIENT

Lady Members of Secretariat Staff at Convention Travel a Lot and Work Hard

Misses Rose Wandell, Hazel Meyer and Stella Badger Experts of Secretariat

There is a note of efficiency and smartness about the lady secretaries who traveled to Victoria from Chicago to see that things go smoothly at the Rotary International convention.

Miss Rose Wandell, assistant secretary, Rotary International, and secretary to the president, became a member of Rotary secretariat staff in 1917, having been previously employed as stenographer with the Western Union Telegraph Company.

She has had an intermittent service record with Rotary International of twelve years, nine of which have been spent in the executive department, principally on work in connection with the board of directors and three years as secretary to Presidents Sutton, Roth and Fessell.

Miss Wandell has attended eight Rotary International conventions and was appointed an assistant secretary in 1927. Her education has been supplemented by a number of special courses of study.

Then there is Miss Hazel V. Meyer, also from Chicago, assistant secretary, Rotary International.

Upon graduation from high school in 1916 she joined the staff of Rotary International.

Although her service has not been continuous, she has spent twelve years as a member of the staff, part of which time she was an assistant on the editorial staff of The Rotarian.

Her work mainly has been that of assisting the secretary in his contact with the general officers and committees of Rotary International.

In January, 1932, she was given the grade of assistant secretary. She has attended four Rotary conventions, serving as secretary to the resolutions committee at three conventions.

Miss Stella F. Badger, Chicago, assistant secretary, Rotary International, is a native of Huntington, Indiana. She joined the staff of the secretariat's office in December, 1921.

During her employment she has been assigned to numerous divisions and sections in the office. In February, 1923, she resigned her position, going to Denver, Colo., and then to California, returning to the secretariat's office in July, 1924. For four years she was assigned to the fiscal division in charge of the section of collections and assisted with the work of the finance committee.

In December, 1927, she was made an assistant secretary. She has been a member of the convention staff at various Rotary conventions.

In June, 1929, Miss Badger was appointed to serve as secretary to President Newman.

Last year she was in active charge of the transportation division of the secretariat, handling a tremendous amount of work incident to transferring 1,500 Rotarians to the North America to the International Rotary Convention at Vienna, Austria.

The following guests have registered recently at the Strathcona Hotel: Mr. and Mrs. W. Weaving, Burnie; Mr. F. Black, Vancouver; Miss L. Boughen, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Burke, Vancouver; Mr. E. W. Clark, Vancouver; Mr. A. E. Barker, Victoria; Mr. R. Liggett, Port Alice; Mrs. W. A. Bean, Seaco, Maine.

A pleasant evening was spent at Burns' Hall, 1408 Douglas Street, when the members of the Spiritual Science Temple opened their new home. During the evening the following contributed to an enjoyable programme. Solo by Miss Barr, Miss Winters and Miss Clark, and dances by Ethel Gillies and Thelma Stratford. Mrs. Blaylock gave interpretation of several songs, which were much enjoyed.

Dr. J. S. Flasket will leave early next week for Pullman, Washington State, to attend the Pacific Division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, which will be held there Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. He is also scheduled to take part in the programme by giving a review of the progress in astronomy since the last meeting of the association, the summary to include the history of the advancements made in chemistry, physics and animal and plant sciences.

Mrs. Eustace Maude of Mayne Island, who came to Victoria to attend the wedding of her granddaughter, Miss Audrey Payne, and Mr. F. C. Pollard, turned home yesterday, who were returned home by the wedding party. Mrs. Maude and her daughter, Miss Alison Maude, of Salt Spring Island, who have been visiting in Victoria, will leave for Sidney, where they will be a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Williams, McNeill Avenue, Oak Bay.

Strawberry Vale Women's Institute Holds Regular Monthly Meeting

At the regular monthly meeting of Strawberry Vale Women's Institute held on Tuesday afternoon at Colquhoun hall, plans were made for a strawberry social which will be held at the same place on Wednesday afternoon, July 6, and will also be carried on during the evening. A varied programme of entertainment will be provided and for those who would like to know the future the fascination of fortune telling may be indulged in. The affair will be managed under the joint co-operation of Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Austin. The ever-popular hot-dog will be in evidence with Mrs. Hemmley and Mrs. Harper in charge. Mrs. Huntington and Mrs. Hall will cater to the afternoon tea requirements and Mr. Humphries will conduct the game of "house-housie". Mrs. Harper reported that the company of Girl Guides was now established under the direction of Miss Stocken. The recipients of remembrance sent on Mother's Day conveyed their thanks to the institute for this courtesy and thoughtfulness. The report of the treasurer showed that the funds are in a satisfactory condition and that May had been an unusually busy month.

The members expressed their feelings of deepest sympathy with Mrs. Frank Campbell in her recent bereavement.

The interior of Colquhoun hall is now completely finished and the members voiced their pleasure at this fact. Much credit is due to J. Humphries, Mr. Harper and Mr. Rowland, who gave so generously of their time and labor to put down the flooring last month.

By courtesy of the Department of Agriculture the institute will again award prize books for the specimens of penmanship submitted by the pupils of Strawberry Vale School and adjudged the best. Owing to the fact that these prizes have been won by the same contestants more than once it was decided that former prize winners will not be eligible this year, thereby creating a greater opportunity for the other pupils. There will also be a special prize given to the pupil who gains the highest points in grade eight written examinations.

Your Baby
and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDERED

DISSATISFIED BABY NEEDS
STRONGER MILK FORMULA

There are two types of milk formula, those that are figured to supply baby with one and one-half ounces of milk for each pound of his weight every twenty-four hours, and those which supply him with two ounces per pound. When starting baby on an artificial feeding, it is advisable to offer the weaker formula at first and work up gradually to the larger formula. This is all explained at length in my leaflet, "Sweet Milk Formula," which any mother may have by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with her request to this department.

DISSATISFIED

In the following letter the baby is expressing his first type of formula and is showing his dissatisfaction by waking several times at night. The solution would be to strengthen the formula and make the baby's daytime rationing that he will not demand to be fed so many times at night.

Mrs. L. J. T. writes: "My baby who weighs seven pounds, four ounces at birth now weighs fourteen and one-half pounds. His formula consists of twenty-two ounces of milk, thirteen and one-quarter of water and two and one-half tablespoons of maltose. He gets six ounces of this every four hours and gets one tablespoon of cereal at 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. Along with the bottle, at 8 a.m. he gets one and one-half ounces of orange juice and one ounce of water. He gets prune juice in the afternoon and one-half teaspoon of cod liver oil three times a day. He refuses to drink water and wakes up several times at night. Do you think he is getting enough and is his formula strong enough?"

STRENGTHEN FORMULA

Here are the changes I would suggest. Increase the formula gradually by one ounce more of milk each day until you reach twenty-eight ounces of milk, nine and one-half ounces of water, and four and one-half to five tablespoons of the maltose. Put in two five bottles and offer a bottle every four hours in daytime and once at night. Your baby is quite capable of taking seven and one-half ounces a feeding, he'll be much better satisfied with this amount.

Increase the cereal slightly if there seems need for it, but I feel sure that when the formula has this added milk and sugar, baby won't be waking so often at night. You may dispense with the cod liver oil in June. Your present amounts, if of plain cod liver oil, have been too small. Next winter offer baby at least two teaspoonsful of more a day.

Refuse to drink boiled water is, in this case, quite understandable. The baby is getting a large quantity of water not only with the formula, but also with the orange juice. He needs a more food, not more water.

LAMB OFFERS CHANCE FOR ECONOMY

It behooves the thrifty marketer to think twice before she buys the Sunday roast and choose a cut with the least waste in proportion to its weight. Judged by this standard, the leg is the most economical joint of the lamb-creature and at this time of year there is no meat that is more tender and deliciously flavored. Cleverly used, there is no waste, for the bone itself is turned into an asset.

When you purchase a leg of lamb ask the butcher to remove the bones and have them sent with the meat. The bones can be used to make delicious broth. Put bones in a kettle, add one small onion and two teaspoons salt. Add cold water to completely cover and heat slowly to the boiling point. Simmer until the stock is reduced from one-third to one-half. Let stand over night or until the fat rises to the top and forms a firm layer. Remove fat and strain out bones and onion. Reheat with ¼ teaspoon white pepper and serve. One or two tablespoons tomato catsup can be added to give a piquant flavor to the broth for a change.

The leg is filled with a well-seasoned bread pudding. Sew the cut edges of the meat together in order to hold the stuffing in place and make the whole leg neat in shape. Rub with salt and pepper into the meat and place on the rack of roaster without water. Cover and place in a moderately hot oven, about 325 degrees F. Allow thirty minutes per pound. Remove all strings after roasting. When the meat is done remove the rack. Pour off all the fat and pour two cups of water into roaster. Simmer over a low fire for a few minutes. Blend two tablespoons lamb fat with two tablespoons flour. Stir and cook until frothy. Add liquid from the pan, stirring vigorously with a wire whisk to keep smooth. Bring to the boiling point and cook until thick and smooth.

Of course, a leg with bones may be roasted the same way. You will find that the meat is finer flavored, shrinks less and is tenderer roasted at this temperature than if a higher temperature is used.

There are many tempting ways to use the leftovers from the leg of lamb. Stews, minced on toast, lamb hash and lamb pies usually come to mind, but when there are whole slices a delicious way to serve them is in a jelly sauce.

SLICED LAMB IN JELLY SAUCE

One-half cup apple or currant jelly, 2 tablespoons tomato catsup, pimento stuffed olives, 4 ounces cold roast lamb.

Add catsup to jelly and mix over the fire while melting in a shallow sauce pan. Bring to the boiling point and add slices of lamb. Reduce heat and simmer ten minutes. Garnish each slice with slices of stuffed olives and serve very hot.

To make lamb stew cook vegetables until tender in boiling salted water. Then add cubed roast lamb and simmer long enough to heat thoroughly but not long enough to overcook the meat. Onion, carrot, turnip and potato—no—the carrot, turnip and potato cut in neat dice and the onion thinly sliced—make an excellent vegetable combination for a stew.

"The Plains of Abraham"

BY JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD
(Copyright by Doubleday Doran Co., Inc.)

"Madame Lussan brought me to this room after your fight with Paul," she whispered. "I flung my soiled clothes far back in there!"

Even with the savages so near, paths and memory were in the tremble of her voice.

Jeans faced the narrow aperture in the wall which Lussan had left as a window and a gun hole for defence. He went to the window, and Toinette came close to his side. No eyes could see them as they looked through the eaves. The Mohawks had not moved, and from the steadiness of their attitude Jeams knew they had come upon the open unexpectedly. Not a hand among the silent savages had moved to hatchet, bow or gun.

This fact drew a hopeful whisper from Jeams.

"They see the place is deserted, and unless they find some sign of us, they won't come nearer," he said. "Look, Toinette! There is a white man among them with a prisoner's collar around his neck."

His words were cut short by a sudden movement among the watchers, as if a command had stirred them to life again. The man in the lead, with three eagle feathers in his tuft, stalked alone into the clearing, a tall and slender figure burdened only with his weapons and a warrior's diminutive travelling pack—a giant who was red and black and ochre, and whose belt hung a bundle of scalp in which the sun played and danced with changing lights as he moved. Toinette closed her eyes that the might shut from her vision the grisly trophies of a warrior's success. When she opened them again, two score warriors in single file were following in the footsteps of the leader had passed within a hundred feet of what once had been Lussan's home, casting furtive sideways glances as they went. In more than one belt, fresh scalp shone in the sunshine and two while men and a boy with their hands tied and prisoner thoughts about their throats walked in the line.

Not until the trees on the other side of the clearing had swallowed the last of the Mohawks did Toinette's straining eyes turn to Jeams. There had been no sound in the passing of the red scourge, no cautious volute, no clatter of wood on steel, no crackle of brittle grass or weeds under four score moccasined feet. Where their tracks lay in the grass, one might have thought that three men had traveled instead of forty. And the woods were dead behind them. Crows did not return to the meadow, and the blue jays had flown into safer distance. The woodpecker had gone to a farther shrub. Even in the old house there was no longer the scurrying and squeaking of mice—no sound but the tumultuous throbbing of three hearts, two of them human and one a beast's.

It was then Jeams spoke.

"I swear there was a white man—a free white man—in that painted crowd, and long hair was hanging from his belt."

"I saw his blond head and lighter skin, but thought my eyes were lying to me," replied Toinette.

"An Englishman," said Jeams. "A murderer, for money such as my Uncle Hepibah told me about."

"And yet—he might be French."

They stood looking into each other's eyes, she of the aristocracy of Old France and he of the New World's freedom, and her hands rose slowly to his face as his bow and arrow fell to the floor. For the first time she raised her mouth to his.

"Kiss me, Jeams—and pray a little with me in gratitude for the mercy God has shown us!"

The thrill of her lips lay for a moment against his.

"I am sorry for everything in the world," she said.

Some of the softness and beauty of boyhood returned into his face as she drew herself from his arms and he descended the creaking stair ahead of her.

They did not go out at once, but stood nearer the lower door, listening for sound and watching for something to move.

"They are gone," Jeams finally said. "But there may be stragglers behind, and it is safer not to show ourselves too soon."

It was easier for them to talk after this. Quite calmly, as if looking back on a distant thing, Toinette told Jeams of the tragedy of Tonteur Manor. Her mother, he learned, had left for Quebec two days preceding the coming of the Indians. Toinette expressed her thankfulness because of this, but no great gladness was in her voice. She could not remember in vivid details all that had happened, it had been so sudden and overwhelming, like a stream of fire engulfing a black night. Peter Lubeck was with Diekau, and Heloise, his young wife, had come to stay with her. Both were asleep when the savages attacked in the early morning, and she was of the opinion that most of the killing was over before any were fairly awake—and before any guns were fired. Then came shots and her father's voice roaring through the big house. They were out of their bed when the seigneur came in and told them to dress and keep to their room. She did not know what had happened until she looked out of her window, and then she saw what seemed to be hundreds of naked savages running about. She rushed after her father, and he was gone. When she returned to her room, Heloise had disappeared and she did not see her again. She could hear screaming and terrible cries, and dressing hurriedly as her father had commanded, she disobeyed him by going downstairs, calling for him and for Heloise. The front part of the house was filled with flame and smoke, and when she turned to the servants' quarters she was cut off by fire and there was no response to her cries. It was then she thought of the mill which she had often heard her father say was impregnable against both fire and guns. She descended into the cellar and went from it through a short underground passage to an outdoor caeu made of sod and stones, in which they kept fruit and vegetables during the winter. She hid herself in this earthy place, and then dared to raise the surface door a little. The worst must have been over, for she could see only a few Indians about, and everything was on fire. There was yelling in the distance where the savages were attacking the farmers' homes. When she ascended from the caeu, she stumbled over the body of old Babin, the miller, who had fallen with a musket in his hands. She took the musket and went to the mill, and after that she did not see an Indian about the seigneurie. Six weeks overcame her, and she was half unconscious in the tower room. Later, looking through one of the narrow windows, she saw four men come from the south. She was sure they were white men, but was afraid to reveal herself because their appearance was terrible. They were like monsters, remaining only a little while to look at the dead. Now, since she had seen the white warrior among the Mohawks, she was even more positive that they belonged to the war band and that she was fortunate to have kept herself concealed. When she found that Babin's musket was loaded, she regretted that she had not used it to kill one of the murderers. That was why, mistaking him for another straggler, she had fired at Jeams.

One might have expected excitement in her narrative, but it was told quietly as she looked from Jeams across the clearing. It was a recital of fact without the embellishment of pathos or drama, and Jeams remained silent for a time when it was ended. Then he told of his visit to Lussan's and of his race home and what he found there. He spoke of Hepibah.

"He must have discovered the Mohawks on the far side of the valley and started the fire which he had always told me to expect. After that, he tried to reach us and they killed him."

"He may have escaped," suggested Toinette hopefully.

Jeams shook his head.

"He would have come to us. He is dead."

His voice possessed the unemotional certainty with which she had referred to her father and Heloise. There was no possibility of his uncle being alive. He repeated that belief, and added that their salvation was little short of a miracle. But now, he thought, their way would be clear to friends farther down the river. The Indians could not have gone many miles in that direction, for evidently they were hurrying back before Baron Diekau learned of their presence in the French country and set out forces to cut them off. It did not occur to Jeams that the baron and his men might have been defeated, as was true in that very hour.

He produced apples and a pair of purple-topped turnips from the provision pouch which he wore at his belt, and ate these as they waited. Meanwhile, he told her what they must do. They would be forced to spend a night in the woods, but he was sure he could make a comfortable place for her.

He walked ahead instead of at her side when they began their journey. Jeams carried an arrow fixed to the string of his bow, and suddenly a twig caught it and it slipped from his fingers and fell to the ground. He was stooping to recover it when a terrified scream from Toinette brought him erect.

Not more than eight or ten paces from them stood a painted and half-naked savage whose intention had been to make his way toward the abandoned house. He was an appalling figure, and during the few seconds in which they faced each other Jeams recognized in him the white-skinned scalp hunter he and Toinette had seen with the Mohawks. As this discovery threw a flash of relief, but a second glance showed him a fiend more dangerous than an Indian, one of the merciless butchers who hunted human hair for the price his own people had set upon it. A blue-eyed Indian, how often had he heard his uncle curse their breed! Beasts more cruel than tigers, demons set loose and paid, English money until their sport as well as their livelihood became an orgy of ambush, murder, rape, and fire. Here was one of them. The man, greased and painted, but he was white. His warlock was light and his eyes were small and blue. He carried a knife, a knife, and a hatchet, and at his belt was a woman's hair, and with it another scalp that must have been taken from the head of a child.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 9.—An infant boy being prepared for burial in an undertaking establishment burst into a loud cry.

The child, born a few days ago to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Greer, became ill yesterday evening. A physician pronounced him dead, and he was taken to the undertaker.

The undertaker rushed the child to a hospital, where he was placed in an incubator and was at first expected to live. He later died, however.

S.A. Called For And Delivered

By ROBERT GRANDON

The other day, I mentioned some of the tricks employed by the cameramen to help out the leading men of the screen. But that doesn't mean that the same tricks are eliminated when the feminine players are shot. Indeed they are. . . .

One of the great tricks of the trade is investing an actress with S.A. when it doesn't stick out. To do this, the lady is placed against a black background. First, fitting garments are worn, and lights are placed to accentuate bust and hips. And . . . oh boy . . . you'd be surprised at the result. Ray Wray and Mary Brian are treated this way and you find Billie Dove given plenty of lure in a like fashion. . . . But if they want to make a Clara Bow or Jean Harlow less seductive, a light background and soft focus is used, and, as in the mauve decade, the lady isn't supposed to have any legs.

When Charlie Winninger took his first screen test years ago, the studios refused him because of pale blue eyes which didn't register. Now the cameramen sticks a red, yellow, or blue tinted screen on his pan-chromatic film and your lady's eyes suit all demands.

It used to be that wrinkles and crowfeet were eliminated from picture by photographing through gauze. Then came the diffusion screen, a lens made of many fine circles of gauze. . . . and with this, a middle-aged star becomes a liaping babe again.

Rose Hobart is an example of the long narrow face. . . . They photograph her at low angles to shorten the perspective. . . . And a cameraman, if he knows his business, can make a fat girl thin by adjusting backgrounds and lighting effects, and dodging the outstanding extensions of avoidable. . . . Oh, yes, ladies, it pays to stand in well with the cameraman.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Lightning Bug

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Mrs. Longears looked at her husband, but the lady rabbit could not see him. The reason for this was that the hollow stump bungalow was all in darkness. Nurse Jane had put out the lights to keep the June Bug from zooming around, banging them all on their noses or getting tangled by his sharp legs, in the fur of the bunny folk.

"Something will have to be done, Wiggily!" said Mrs. Longears, speaking in the darkness toward where she thought her husband was sitting. "We can't have this June Bug zooming around and we can't sit in the dark."

"I agree with you, my dear," answered Mr. Longears. "It was a mistake for me to bring the June Bug home. But I felt sorry for the poor chap when he said he wanted to buzz around a light and he couldn't find a light in the woods, not even a firefly."

"Oh, you meant to be kind, I'm sure," said Mrs. Longears. "You didn't know that June Bugs can't see where they are going when they buzz around a light. That's why they bump into you."

"Yes, I guess so," Uncle Wiggily said. "Mr. Longears, the June Bug is quiet enough now," he went on.

"Well, he won't be if we light a light," spoke Mrs. Longears. "So you had better take him out in the dark and let him go back to the woods where he lives. Maybe he'll find a lightning bug to keep him company. Lightning bugs don't mind being bumped by June Bugs."

"All right, my dear," agreed the rabbit. The June Bug, after Nurse Jane had put out the light, had managed to fly back to the little bark box which Uncle Wiggily had made to carry him in his pocket from the woods.

There's another firefly!

"Come along with me, June," said Uncle Wiggily kindly as he picked up the bug in the box. "I'm sorry, but I guess you were made to live in a lighted bungalow, much as you like to buzz around lamps."

"No, I don't guess so," faintly murmured the brown creature. "I forgot to tell you when you so kindly offered to take me home with you that though I love lights, I can't see when I am near them. They blind my eyes and I bump every which way."

"I'll say you do!" squeaked Nurse Jane, whose nose still ached where the June Bug had bumped her.

So Uncle Wiggily, carrying the bug in the box, stepped out into the dark woods. As soon as he was gone Mrs. Longears lighted the lamps in the bungalow so the rabbit boys and girls could see so do their school homework. Though they liked the June Bug, they were glad he no longer zoomed around bumping them.

Through the dark woods hopped Uncle Wiggily with his June Bug. As long as it was dark the Bug remained quietly in the box. For it is only when June Bugs see bright lights that they get excited like a pussy cat when it smells catnip.

All of a sudden, as Mr. Longears was hopping along, he saw, just ahead of him a bright flash of fire.

"Is that lightning?" asked the June Bug in his box. "Oh, no, saw the flash. If it is please don't let me out, for lightning means a storm and I don't like to be wet."

"That wasn't lightning, but a lightning bug flashing his fire that he carries under his wings," answered the rabbit. "There's another firefly!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily as he saw a second flash.

"Oh, goodie!" spoke the June Bug. "If you will let me out of this box now I can buzz about the lightning bug. He won't register me and keep out of my way. I won't bump him. Let me out!"

"First I must ask the lightning bug," said Mr. Longears. He called to one of the bright, flashing creatures. "Do you mind if the June Bug buzzes around you?"

"No, let him buzz as much as he likes," was the answer. "We'll keep out of his way so he won't zoom into us and bump us."

So Uncle Wiggily opened the little box and let the June Bug out and at once the brown creature was happily buzzing around one of the big lightning bugs whose fire was very bright. The other firefly also flashed his light by flitting his wings.

"How gay and bright you are!" said Uncle Wiggily to the second firefly. "I wish I could take you home with me to light my bungalow, for the electricity goes off any night."

"I'd be glad to come with you," said the lightning bug. So Uncle Wiggily put him in the same box where the June Bug had been and started with his new friend to the bungalow. Now we shall see what happens.

For if the coffee grinder doesn't pinch the rubber ball and make it squeal "I'll a little pig having his face washed," I tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's fire alarm.

Can Any Human Being Be Entirely Self-Sufficient?—Callous Husband Who Prefers New Car to Care For Sick Wife—Rip Van Winkle Who Protests Women's Suffrage

DEAR MISS DIX—Is there a human being who is absolutely self-sufficient? Is there a man or woman who is independent of every one in every way? Takes his or her own living, depends only upon himself or herself for recreation and society. Feels no need of companionship and has no desire for marriage.

Has a self-sufficient person any understanding of others? Is such a person capable of any deep feeling?

BUBBLES.

Answer—There is no such thing as a self-sufficient person, because no man lives unto himself alone. We are dependent upon others for our physical well being, for our property, for our happiness, for our diversion.

We are dependent upon those who pay our wages or pay us for our services for the money on which we live. We are dependent on the cooks who prepare our food, the chambermaids who keep our houses clean, the tailors and dressmakers and factories that make our clothes. We are dependent upon the people who make motorcars and run theatres and organize sports or our amusements that make life gay and entertaining. Left entirely to ourselves we would be poor, miserable creatures wandering around dinked out on a few fig leaves and gnawing on a few roots and bloody bones.

And we are just as dependent on other people for all of our happiness. We have to have others to share our joys and sorrows. Half the pleasure of taking a trip is to be with congenial people and to be able to talk over the adventures with them. Nothing so dreary as even the finest house if rooms are empty and there is no one to talk to except your own. What is the good of thinking up a wisecrack if there is no one to tell it to? How flat a triumph if no one knows but yourself that you have pulled off a good thing and there is no one to praise you?

Strangely enough, no matter how concealed we are nor how much we admire ourselves, we find ourselves dull company. We have to have somebody else to stimulate our minds to do their best work, some other wits to sharpen our own wit against.

This necessity for companionship is so great that the worst punishment that can be inflicted upon a criminal is to put him in solitary confinement.

And nobody can live happily without love. The love of family, the love of brothers and sisters, the love of friends, the love of a husband or wife. No matter what else a man or woman have, lacking love they are miserable.

There are egoists who think that they are self-sufficient, but they are mistaken. Even in their days of prosperity their self-complacency would collapse like a pricked balloon if there was nobody to admire them, nobody to applaud them.

But it is when the days of trouble come that we realize how dependent we are on other people. Then it is we turn to others like frightened children in the dark, clinging together for help, for pity, for comfort. Then it is we want to reach out and touch a friendly hand and to know that we do not weep alone and that our grief is shared by those who love us.

Of all idle boasts the silliest is that one is self-sufficient. Why, he would bore himself to death in a week if he had no other companionship.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—We are a young married couple, have been married four years. My health is very bad and I cannot make my husband realize that I should have the medical treatment that would cure me. He is willing to spend money on new cars, but he says he is not going to waste any on doctors. I have tried to be a good wife in every way and in spite of my ill health I have managed and saved in every way, and I feel that I deserve enough of what we have laid up to have the treatment that would make me well. What is your opinion?

WAITING.

Answer—Your husband must be either singularly dull and stupid, or else he deserves the Mean Man's Medal for being willing to let you suffer and perhaps die to save the price of a doctor's bill. I never heard of anything quite so callous and cruel.

I should think that no matter how little he regards your welfare his own self-interest would prompt him to try to get you cured, for a sick and ailing wife is not the cheerful object around a house that a healthy and able-bodied wife is. Nobody can be a ray of sunshine when she is racked with pain, nor can she be peppy and entertaining when she is so tired all the time that she would just like to flop down and die. Also, sick women are almost inevitably peevish and fretful as the result of taut nerves.

Nor can a woman who is a semi-invalid do as much work as a well one, and so I think that all of these considerations would appeal to your husband and make him see that having a doctor patch you up would be a good financial investment.

But, at any rate, you will be foolish to let his parsimony doom you to suffering the balance of your life. Fortunately there are free clinics in connection with every hospital where those without money can go and have the best attention from doctors who are more humane than your husband. Lose no time in going to one of these missions of mercy and have the treatment you need.

But I will bet my new spring hat that if your husband had even a toe ache his aversion to paying doctors' bills would vanish into thin air. He would have six specialists and a couple of trained nurses as soon as he could get the telephone going.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—My husband and I cannot agree on the question of suffrage. I think a woman should vote and take an interest in the political and economic questions of the day, but he thinks a woman's place is at home.

MRS. W. B. S.

Answer—However did you come to marry Mr. Rip Van Winkle? And what waked him up? The question was settled ten years ago, and whether they vote or do not vote is just a matter between them and their consciences. They have the same right to express their opinions at the polls as men have.

Inasmuch as women are subject to the laws of their country, just as men are, and have to pay taxes and are just as much interested in their country's welfare as men, why, in heaven's name, have they not the same right to a voice in making these laws? And if a woman has enough intelligence to understand everything else in the world, why should she not be able to form an opinion on political questions? And if she is fit to be a man's wife and the mother of his children, why is she not fit for citizenship?

But why hold post-mortems? These matters were settled once and for all when women were given suffrage, and nobody in the world is enough of a back number to start a movement to take it away from them.

Of course, a woman's place is in the home if she is married and has children and her husband is able to support the family, but inasmuch as going out to vote could not take her out of it more than an hour a year it does not seem worth while to get all hot and bothered about that.

Interesting Trees

IV—SEQUOIAS
California and southern Oregon are the homes of some of the world's largest trees. I am thinking of the sequoias, which reach heights nothing less than amazing.
One kind of sequoia is known as the "Big Tree," another as the "Redwood." In the King's River grove there is a Big Tree 276 feet high. Another tree, in the Calaveras grove, rises 325 feet above the ground.
Perhaps the tallest sequoia is dead, but it is still standing. Its height is 365 feet.
The thickness of the trunks of Big Trees is just as amazing as the height. One of them—known as the General Sherman tree—has a trunk thirty-seven feet four inches wide. Another, the General Grant tree—measures forty feet in thickness of trunk. The measuring is done at the base of the tree. Higher up, the trunk is not so wide, but it is wide enough.
I have before me as I write a photograph of a large bush, loaded with pasenger, passing through an opening cut in the trunk of a dead sequoia.
A. W. Elam, a forest engineer, tells of measuring a tree 308 feet high (as tall as a twenty-five-story building). This tree has bark eleven inches thick. Careful study and figuring indicate that this tree contains enough lumber to build twenty-two six-room houses!

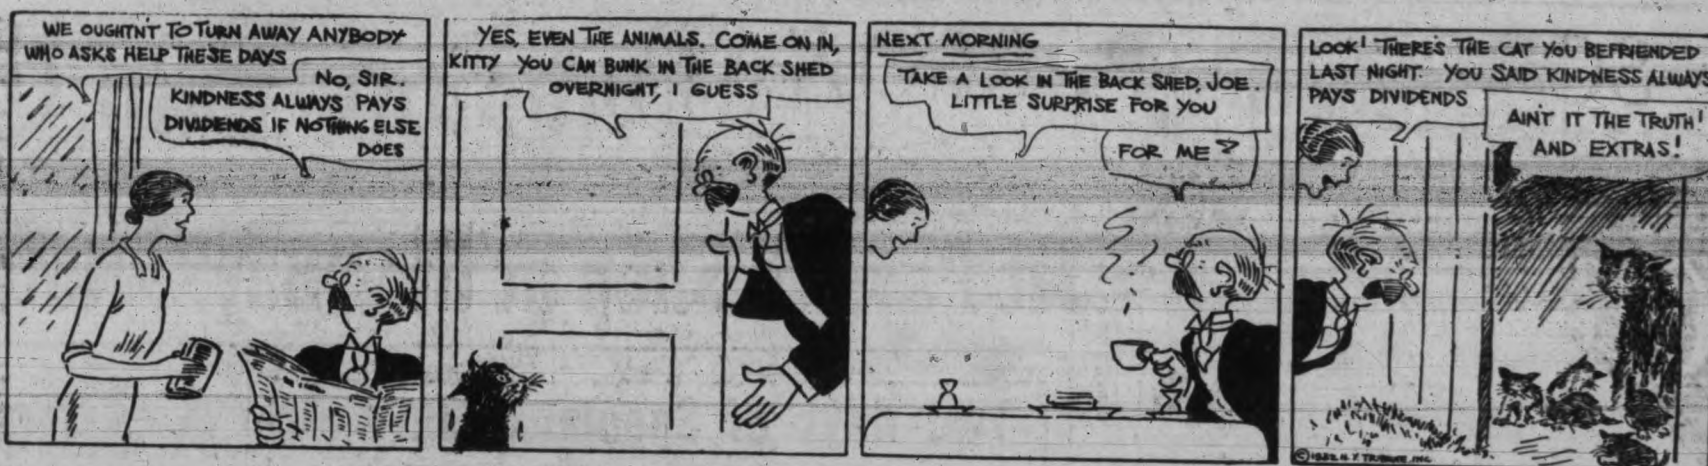

Big Trees and Redwoods grow in high places, usually a mile or more above sea level. Once upon a time—vast ages ago—trees of this type grew in many parts of North America; but now they are limited to California and Oregon.
What stories these trees might tell if they had brains and could speak! Some of those living to-day are believed to be more than 3,000 years old. They were growing when Rome was started as a little village. The winds were blowing through their branches when the Norsemen and Columbus were making their famous voyages across the Atlantic.
The Big Trees were not near the scenes where those events of history took place; but it is quite possible that they were alive when tribes from Asia came to the Pacific Coast.
(This story may be placed in "Nature" section of your scrapbook.)

WOMAN BECOMES MOVIE PRODUCER

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times—London.—The appointment of Miss Auriol Lee to the well-known stage producer, as director for the British International Pictures at Ebbw Vale, indicates yet another door which has recently been opened to women.

Although she is best known for her stage productions, Miss Lee has had some experience with film work. Not long ago, after producing "There's Always Juliet" on Broadway, she went to Hollywood to take an active part in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production of "Grand Hotel." She has also worked for Paramount.

Among her best-known productions in London have been "Nine Till Six," "London Wall," and "After All." She is now busy producing John Van Druten's new play, "Somebody Knows," and immediately this task is finished she will take up work at Ebbw Vale.

Metchosin Lamb Show Was Notable Success

Sixth Annual Exhibition and Sheep Shearing Contest Held Yesterday

Large Attendance Represented All Island Sheep Centres; Prize Awards

One of the finest collections of Island-grown sheep and lambs ever collected were on view yesterday afternoon at Metchosin Hall, where the sixth annual lamb show and sheep shearing contest of the Metchosin Sheep Breeders' Association took place. The large attendance of spectators and breeders represented all parts of southern Vancouver Island, and the animals and exhibits of woolens included entries from many Island communities.

F. G. Waide, president of the Metchosin Sheep Breeders' Association, opened the show and welcomed the visitors, declaring that breeders were anticipating improved conditions, despite the prevalence of low prices for meat and wool. He considered the association, and thanked merchants and others who had donated generously to the prize list.

The judging proved a severe task for the judges. Arthur Morton, senior federal sheep and swine promoter for British Columbia, judged the lamb and wool classes. Dr. A. Knight, provincial veterinary inspector, judged the shearing contest, and said the contestants showed great improvement in skill over last year. He also noted a great betterment in the type of fleeces produced. Mrs. E. Simmonds awarded the honors in the women's work division.

FINE NEEDLEWORK
The collection of antique needlework shown by Mrs. Young, included hand-woven plaids and blankets, beautiful specimens of broderie Anglaise and eyelet work, knitting in cotton and in wool, crochet in fine cotton and colored wools, old-fashioned "Berlin" wool-work in brilliant colors and hand-woven linen damask.

Mrs. Robertson, Esquimalt, formerly of the Shetland Islands, demonstrated spinning and showed an exhibit of fine Angora wool and a knitted bonnet.

Mrs. Simmonds, Victoria, showed many beautifully knitted articles of Angora wool and made-up mitts and slippers of hand-tanned rabbit pelts.

The West Coast Woolen Mills, Vancouver, showed a splendid exhibit of blankets, tweeds and cloths made exclusively of British Columbia wool. The exhibit attracted great interest.

An interesting exhibit of tanned sheepskins and rugs was shown by the Teosito tannery.

At the conclusion of the show a carcass of mutton was cut up by Arthur Locke, to show the correct method. The meat was auctioned by A. McPherson.

Tea was served by Mrs. Theodor, Mrs. W. Arden, Mrs. W. Witty and Mrs. W. Arden.

The prize for guessing the correct weight of the first prize wether lamb was won by Edwin Taylor, Cobble Hill, the weight being ninety-six pounds.

During the afternoon Mrs. Waide was presented with a bouquet of roses by the little daughter of Mrs. Thorne. The reception committee included Mrs. F. G. Waide and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Young.

Following are the judging results:

Rotary Organizers Get Down To Work

Suggested Changes in Constitution Being Considered By International Board

Victoria Rotary Club Officers Being Installed at Banquet To-night

Suggested changes in the Rotary International constitution are being given consideration by the International Board, which inaugurated its sessions at the Empress Hotel to-day. These conferences, which are private, opened at 10 o'clock, and are being attended by leading Rotarians, who are in the city for the International Assembly, which will convene here next Tuesday.

At a banquet to be held in the Crystal ballroom of the hotel this evening, Sydney W. Pascall, president of Rotary International, assisted by district governors now here, will install George McGregor as president of the Victoria Rotary Club, in succession to Percy Watson.

Other officers of the local club will also be installed. Following the banquet and installation ceremonies a dance will be held in the ballroom.

Among the visitors attending the installation this evening will be President Pascall, Mrs. Pascall, Miss Pascall, Sir Charles A. Mander, director and trustee of Rotary Foundation and Lady Mander, who reached here this morning from Seattle. William De Cock Bunting, the Hague, Netherlands director; Joseph W. Jackson, Madison, Wisconsin, director; Alvin R. Roth, Alto, immediate past president; Frederic A. Shaffer, Globe, Arizona, director; Walter Walthall, San Antonio, Texas, director; John Nelson, third vice-president, Montreal; Chesley R. Perry, secretary Rotary International, Chicago, and G. Fred Birks, Sydney, Australia, director nominee.

FLYING FROM CHICAGO

Robert E. Hahn, Richmond, Indiana, first vice-president, and Luis Machado Ortega, Havana, Cuba, are flying here from South Bend, Indiana, in an effort to get to Victoria for to-night's function. It is doubtful, however, whether they will be able to arrive before to-morrow morning.

Mr. Hahn was held at the Culver Military College, near South Bend, to attend his son's graduation in the morning. After the graduation ceremonies Mr. Hahn hurried by train to Chicago, from where he took a plane for Seattle. Mr. Machado is a director and member of the Rotary magazine committee.

SIR C. MANDER HERE

MANION PAYS SHORT VISIT

Minister of Railways Cheerful But Cautious on Controversial Subjects, on Holiday

Radiating cheery optimism, displaying a holiday spirit, but cautious in his utterances, Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, reached the city late yesterday afternoon from Ottawa.

The federal minister was met by Premier Tolmie and his daughter, Mrs. Leonard Andrews, and later taken for a drive to Sooke. Dr. Manion explained at the outset to newspapermen that he had decided to come on to Victoria for a holiday after completing a business trip to the prairies. He recalled that he was here about two years ago on a political speaking tour.

"I haven't anything particular to say at this time," said Dr. Manion, stressing that he was enjoying a vacation. "Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who was a wise politician, never gave interviews, and I think he was right."

INTERESTED IN WATERWAYS

The visiting minister was asked to express his views on the St. Lawrence waterways scheme, but declined, intimating that anything he said presently might be interpreted as coming from the mouth of the government.

Coming from the head of the Great Lakes, Dr. Manion has taken a deep interest in the proposed project which is designed to provide a navigable waterway for ocean vessels of reasonable tonnage between Montreal and Lake Ontario.

The treaty is reported to be nearing its final form and an announcement regarding it may shortly be expected. Questioned as to the disposition of the Canadian National docks and other property in Victoria, Dr. Manion said that was a matter for the C.N.R. management to decide.

CROP PROSPECTS

He spoke of the prospects of a good crop on the prairies, when the grain is beginning to show up well above the surface, and of hope that beneficial results would come from the Imperial Economic Conference which will be held in Ottawa next month.

Dr. Manion said Ottawa appreciated the fact that British Columbia had played and would continue to play a large part in the development of Canada. In its endeavors to further the best interests of the Dominion government, he said, felt that it could rely upon the cordial co-operation of British Columbia. Dr. Manion and the members of his family left the city this afternoon on the return trip to Ottawa.

grandchildren in England. The funeral will take place Saturday, June 11, at 2 p.m. The Rev. J. C. Switzer will conduct the services and the remains will be laid at rest in Royal Oak cemetery.

BROTHERS SEEK SENTENCE CUT

Ramming of Customs Vessel Despatcher By Fisher Lassie Under Review

The appeal of Thomas Edward Gorry and George Gorry against sentences of two years each, imposed by Judge Cayley in County Court in Vancouver, following their arrest near Welcome Pass last January by the Dominion Customs vessel Despatcher, opened this afternoon before the British Columbia Court of Appeal. A. C. DesBrisay and A. B. McPhillips are appearing for the Crown and J. W. deB. Farris for the Gorry brothers.

The two men were sentenced by Judge Cayley last April after hearing evidence that the Despatcher had rammed the launch Fisher Lassie in Welcome Pass. The summons had been ignored and members of the Customs crew swore they saw filled sacks being thrown from the Fisher Lassie. They also testified that, when the Despatcher attempted to get alongside, they were rammed by the Fisher Lassie, which altered her course to run down the government vessel. The Despatcher had been damaged by the resulting collision.

WORLD LIKE BAD FAMILY

Science Far Ahead of Social Wisdom, John Nelson Tells Canadian Club

Goodwill Leading Factor in Solving Problems, Noted Rotarian Says

"The world's household is still in a state of turmoil. Science, which has brought us together, has no formula to offer whereby we may live together. Indeed, it has put impartially in all our hands instruments of destruction so terrible that we tremble to think of the possibilities of another conflict. When physical progress out-marches social wisdom, we are due for a crash. The civilization of the world, already badly shattered, awaits the supreme test."

This warning was contained in the address on "Some Impressions of Middle Europe," which was given by John Nelson, third vice-president of Rotary International, before the Men's Canadian Club luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day. Mr. Nelson was managing-director of The Victoria Daily Times twenty-five years ago and is at present supervisor of the public relations department of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada and a contributor to leading magazines.

The first thing a traveling Canadian became conscious of after he had left the comparatively peaceful lands of Canada was that more than half the people of the world were in deep ferment, said Mr. Nelson.

WAR NOT OVER

"The war in Europe is not over," said Mr. Nelson. "The truce in 1918 brought a respite to exhausted men on the field of battle. But the nations only turned to tariff warfare—more ruthless than any physical fight. Some adopted the economic boycott, perhaps the most provocative action that any people can adopt. Recent Japanese activities were due in part, at least, to a bloodless but devastating economic boycott exercised by a people who perhaps understand how to use it better than any other nation."

"If we had a world map before us," Mr. Nelson continued, "I think we would be rather startled to note that this ferment is pretty well centralized into one great area. It includes the great Oriental powers of China and Japan. It affects Europe in the Polish Corridor, Czechoslovakia, Roumania and indirectly Austria, Hungary, Germany and Jugoslavia, the countries which have furnished our statesmen with their latest task in the Danubian problem."

"Sprawling between this Polish Corridor and Japan and China is Russia, the great enigma of the world, the south of her British India, convulsed by disorder. All these adjoining countries comprise 60 per cent of the people of the world. Anything which keeps 60 per cent of the world in a state of ferment and revolt must profoundly affect the future of the other 40 per cent."

"I saw a clash of Hitlerites with the police in the streets of Frankfurt-on-Main," recalled Mr. Nelson. "I was told that they had no fear of Hitler as long as von Hindenburg lived. He has the complete confidence of the German people and presents a rather strange paradox in the fact that one who was the personification of militarism has become the high priest of democracy in Germany."

"Both in Germany and Austria-Hungary I found a curious absence of resentment against men of our race. There is still resentment against France of peace-time, perhaps a greater resentment against Czechoslovakia, Poland, Jugoslavia and Roumania who are charged with the thrifty policy of watching which side was going to win and settling in with the winning Allies, thereby assuring the huge access of territory and peoples which the three nations I have mentioned feel belong to them. These nations feel the Treaty of Versailles is merely a truce, not a peace."

MEAGRE RATIONS

"The condition of the Austrian people and the Hungarian people, and to a degree, of the Germans, is pitiful. They are reduced to very meagre rations. I drove from Vienna to the winning Allies, thereby assuring the huge access of territory and peoples which the three nations I have mentioned feel belong to them. These nations feel the Treaty of Versailles is merely a truce, not a peace."

There is an air of smartness and orderliness about Italy. One is made conscious of two great forces, one physical and the other spiritual, which are dominating the lives of the people. Whatever may be said about Mussolini's methods, he has given Italy the only alternative to the anarchy which threatened her," commented Mr. Nelson.

"If there were time to look at these countries one would discover all sorts of devices being used to cure national ills," said Mr. Nelson. "China, where 400,000,000 people are trying to escape the new wave of democracy into bottles hoary with age; Japan veneered with an eclectic civilization through which the military power is beginning to show; Russia's 800,000,000 engaged in a stupendous and radical experiment which, whether wholly or partially successful, must profoundly alter if it does not overturn the civilization that all of us here know. Some are submitting to a ruthless tyrant; some defying their emperor; some of many; autocracy, liberalism, Bolshevism, Hitlerism, Fascism; some systems plainly out of harmony with the genius of the people. Democracy has been too late to that of Mazzini and Garibaldi. Communism is as foreign to the individualistic genius of the Chinese as it is to the orderly instinct for self government of the Teutonic peoples."

"I think the deepest impression left on my mind was that peace and prosperity can only come through a better understanding and more tolerant attitude by all," said Mr. Nelson. "The only thing that seems to be invincible is goodwill. This applies to nations as well as individuals."

Mr. Nelson was introduced by B. C. Nicholas. The vote of thanks was moved by John Cochrane.

JUDGES PRAISE INJURED YOUTH

Willingness to Work Became Bar to Indemnity, Insurance Company Pleads

PRIVATE FUNERAL

The funeral of Andrew Wright of "Riffrington," the Uplands, who passed away yesterday will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, following which the remains will be sent to Vancouver for cremation. The service will be privately conducted and it is requested that no flowers be sent. Rev. Dr. W. C. Wilson will be the officiating minister.

NURSES MET

The Graduate Nurses' Association held its regular monthly meeting at St. Joseph's Hospital Nurses' Home on Tuesday evening, a social hour following the business meeting. There will be no more meetings until September.

After the injury improved, on being assured by his doctor that he would be fully recovered in a few days, young Mathews went back to his job, only to find that he could not carry out his duties. He had consulted another doctor who had operated and removed a torn cartilage from the knee joint, the injured condition having been the cause of the first lay-off from work. The Compensation Board had recognized the fact, had reinstated the young man to benefit, and he had been under treatment for more than a year.

CLAIM REJECTED

Application to the Continental Casualty Company for further weekly indemnity and a lump sum for expenses had been rejected, on grounds that the injured was only entitled to claim for as long as he was wholly and continuously disabled. By returning to work at Port Renfrew, and being paid all further claims beyond the $72 he had received, was the attitude of the insurance company.

This view was stressed to the court by P. J. McIntyre, counsel for the appellant company. In the lower court the company had also tendered a waiver of further claims, which the youth had signed before returning to work. The trial judge had given judgment for Mathews, and the waiver was not material to the appeal, that ground of rejection of the claim being abandoned in view of the young man being a minor.

JUDGES PRAISE YOUTH

Chief Justice Macdonald stated that the young man's return to work, while laudable, seriously conflicted with the explicit terms of the insurance policy. Mr. Justice Martin also warmly praised young Mathews's spirit but questioned whether his return to work, for so long a period as three weeks, could be overlooked and a resumption of claim under the policy countenanced.

Mr. Justice McPhillips warmly supported the claim for payment of further sums under the policy, on grounds that the disability had been continuous, although the lad had not been aware of the fact when he went back to work. The term of three weeks was, he

Tennis Players Commence Season's Activities in Earnest

Players Should Not Engage in Too Many Interclub Events

Miss Wade's Progress at Wimbledon Will Be Closely Watched

Tiger Daula Making Big Hit With Wrestling Fans in East

WITH THE weather man finally at his best the many tennis clubs of Victoria have crowded programmes. So have come the weekly matches, well-regulated weekly games which are drawing hundreds of players into organized contests, creating friendly rivalry in clubs whose purpose is to improve their game, in addition to giving them invaluable tournament experience.

But one very prominent Canadian critic points out a harmful effect of too much interclub tennis, a condition which exists with many players. That is the sacrifice of perfecting strokes, and the lack of concentration on weaknesses, for the player can ill-afford to give the importance of interclub games, to lose points. In justice to his club, and also to himself, a player does not get a chance to set about improving his style, through concentration on certain strokes, or correct deeply-rooted faults.

There is perhaps nothing prettier in tennis to watch than a well-executed backhand drive, a rhythmic sweeping motion that comparatively few can master. Among the average players in interclub tennis, take a look at the antics of the majority of them as they go through to play a shot backhand. They can show the same game they administer in the forehand drive. Many of them run around the ball, if shot "soft," even if in position to score on a placement. They prefer to take no chances, listing their backhand as a defensive instead of an offensive stroke.

League and tournament matches are greatly beneficial to a player, but too often concentration in stroking is overlooked. An hour of rallying every now and then, with an opponent playing to one's weaknesses, is something that cannot be too strongly emphasized and in a means of further building up one's game without the worry of losing points.

While on the subject of tennis it might be as well to mention of Miss Olive Wade's trip to England. Probably no move on the part of a Canadian woman player has stirred up as much interest as the departure of the Toronto girl to play in the Wimbledon championship and other lesser events. Her progress as Wimbledon will be closely watched by followers of the game in Canada. Miss Wade played in B.C. championships last summer. It would be rather a big demand to expect Canada's number one ranking woman player to get very far in the competition such as Wimbledon will provide, but her trip should be of wonderful benefit to her game.

Miss Wade has the strokes, the natural ability, physical strength, and all the attributes necessary for an outstanding player. What she needs is the competition to broaden her game, and she will get that on her present trip. Olive Wade has shown promise from the time she was a mere youngster. At thirteen she won the eastern Canada junior title. She does not lack the basic training and has well fulfilled the predictions made as regards her future. In 1929 she won the Canadian senior and junior championships while still in her teens. Last year she defeated by Margorie Leeming in the Canadian championships at Vancouver.

Tiger Daula, massive Hindu wrestler, who appeared in Victoria and other coast cities last winter, is making a big hit with fans in eastern Canada. The following is an account of his recent bout in Toronto against "Buck" Olsen:

Tiger Daula, India, impressed the spectators with his wrestling and delighted them with his picturesque appearance and unusual actions. Presumably "Buck" Olsen is a seasoned campaigner of fair ability, but he might as well have been a six-year-old child for all the impression he made on the Hindu. Olsen tried flying tackles, wristlocks and half a dozen other manoeuvres, but his efforts had no more effect on the man from India than waves upon a rock. When he threw himself at Daula in a flying tackle the latter stood upright and Olsen bounced to the floor. Daula disdainfully motioned him to try all over again. When he applied wristlocks, Daula broke them by sheer strength and extended his arm for Olsen to make another attempt if he so cared. When he punched his dusky opponent on the jaw Daula smiled contemptuously and countered with a lusty blow which knocked the Dane across the ring. It should be mentioned that Daula, when Olsen was through with his own efforts, went to work and showed some splendid wrestling. Amazingly fast for his size, he used wristlocks and flying leg scissors most drolly. When about far enough he slammed down to the mat, tossed him around with three flying mares, and ended the match with a crotch hold and body slam.

New Yorker Equals Course Record With Smashing 69 To-day

Holds Three-stroke Lead at Half-way Mark; Percy Alliss, Young British Pro, Has Fine 71 to Place Second With 142; Compston, Davies and C. Whitcombe Tied for Third With 144's; Final Thirty-six-holes To-morrow

Sandwich, Eng., June 9.—A brilliant round of 69, equalling the new record for the long Prince's course, kept Gene Sarazen to-day in the van of the field seeking the British open championship. The swarthy Italian from the United States had a thirty-six-hole total of 139. To-morrow two rounds will be played, all medal play, to wind up the big tourney.

Entry Forms For Women Available

Entry forms for the Women's British Columbia championships and Provincial Olympic Trials at Hastings Park, Vancouver, on Saturday, June 25, may be secured from The Times sports department between the hours of 8 o'clock in the morning and 4 o'clock in the afternoon by Victoria girls desiring to compete in the events. All those wishing to take part must hold amateur cards and The Times has a number of registration forms which must be filled out and sent in prior to the filling of entries. Miss Ann Clark, secretary of the Women's Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada, in sending over the entry lists, expressed the hope the Island would have a good representation at the meet, since those who qualify for the Olympic standards will be given every opportunity to compete in the Canadian trials.

SETS PACE

GENE SARAZEN
Stocky New York Italian, who leads the field at the halfway mark in the British open golf championship with a score of 139. Sarazen to-day added a brilliant 69 to his round of 70 yesterday.

Benny Leonard In One-sided Victory

New York, June 9.—Benny Leonard, retired undefeated lightweight champion, boxed his way to an easy victory over Andy Savola, Bay Ridge, in the feature event at the Coney Island stadium yesterday evening. Leonard had his right eye cut in the first round and his left eye in the ninth, but in spite of these handicaps finished strong and had Savola reeling around on the verge of a knockout as Leonard weighed 150½, and Savola 146½.

Indian Athletes Arrive For Games

San Francisco, June 9.—Three members of the British Indian track squad arrived here yesterday, en route to Los Angeles for the Olympic games. W. C. Dhawan, hop, step and jump, is the only native Indian of the trio. Captain Mervyn Sutton, who has been clocked at 0.84 for the 100-yard dash and 15 seconds for the 120-yard high hurdles. R. A. Verma, another sprinter, completed the arriving trio.

The British contingent, however, were not perturbed by the great trio from the United States—Sarazen, Tommy Armour, defending champion, and Macdonald Smith. Percy Alliss, youthful British professional who carried Walter Hagen to a play-off in the Canadian open a year ago, crowded behind Sarazen with another great round of 71 to-day for a half-way total of 142.

Three more Britons were tied for third place with totals of 144—Archib Compston with a fine 70 to-day; W. H. Davies with a 73, and Charles Whitcombe, who also had a 73 to-day. Meanwhile Armour and Macdonald Smith kept right in the hunt, Armour in his favorite position just back of the leaders with a great 70 to-day for a total of 145, and Smith a 76 for 147. Sarazen failed to set a new record because he half smothered an approach shot to the home green where he had an easy four in sight for a 68. His card:

Out 443 424 455-33
In 444 433 343-33-69
Armour gave no indication to-day that he had recovered his putting form on the outgoing nine. His card:
Out 452 434 546-37
In 344 434 443-33-70-145
Alliss almost exactly duplicated his performance of yesterday when a shaky finish prevented him from carding a 69.
Charles Whitcombe, Ryder Cup captain in 1929, came in with a 73 for a thirty-six hole total of 144, putting him in a tie with Archie Compston for third place behind Sarazen and Alliss.

Arthur Havers, British open champion in 1923, and the veteran Abe Mitchell also broke par again on Prince's course with fine 71's. Havers stood 145 and Mitchell, thanks to a comparatively poor round yesterday, 149.
Archie Compston, giant British professional, scored a superb 70, but had taken 74 yesterday, putting him at a thirty-six hole total of 144, putting him in a tie with Archie Compston for third place behind Sarazen and Alliss.

John de Forest, leading English amateur, stroked himself right out of competition with an 86, which gave a thirty-six-hole total of 166.
BRADBEER, HAS A 75
A. R. Bradbeer, young Somerset professional, who led the qualifying field, needed seventy-five strokes to-day for a thirty-six-hole total of 161.
Macdonald Smith, Scottish-born professional, scored a 78 for 147. Eight strokes behind Sarazen. Starting with a seven on the first hole Smith finished the first nine in 39. He pulled himself together to come home in 37, one under par.

A meeting will be held at the Shaker Heights Golf Club, Monday, to organize the Left-handers Golf Association and plan for a southpaw tournament this fall similar to the United States open. George Herman Ruth, who at least can swing baseballs from the left side, is understood to be slated for the presidency.

TACOMA NINE COMING HERE

Jack and Jill Team Will Play Sons of Canada in Two Ball Games Saturday

Another outside ball team will appear in Victoria on Saturday when the crack Jack and Jill club from Tacoma opposes the Sons of Canada of the local senior league in two exhibition games at the Royal Athletic Park. The first fixture will get under way at 2:30 o'clock and the second at 6 o'clock. Allie McGregor will be in charge. This will be the third year Jack and Jill have played in Victoria. They compete in the same league as the well-known Tacoma Kittens and at the present time are in second place. They are a hard hitting club and should treat the fans to a first class exhibition.

The Sons will use Jack Noble against the visitors in one game while they will select a pitcher from one of the three other local teams to hurl against the Tacomas in the second exhibition.

Bad Slump Plunges Reds Into Seventh Place In National

Seven Straight Defeats Eliminate Howley's Club From Position as Championship Contenders; Four Errors Yesterday Gave New York Giants 9-to-2 Victory; Chicago Cubs Win in Fourteenth to Regain League Lead; Grove and Gomez Continue Battle for Pitching Supremacy in American by Chalking Up Wins

The Cincinnati bubble, one of the prettiest of the spring crop, appears to have exploded in Manager Dan Howley's lap. Seven straight defeats have removed the Reds from the first division, dropped them into seventh place and practically eliminated them as possibilities for the 1932 National League pennant.

They committed four errors in the first four innings yesterday to lose their second straight, to Bill Terry's New York Giants, 9 to 2. All the Giants' runs were unearned.

The Reds' scrap for the league leadership saw Chicago Cubs bounce up again by defeating Brooklyn Dodgers, 7 to 5, in fourteen innings, while Boston was taking a 15 to 8 beating from St. Louis Cardinals, to Bill Terry's New York Giants, 9 to 2. All the Giants' runs were unearned.

The two eminent Southpaws, Vernon Gomez and Bob Grove, continue to burn up the American League in their battle for individual pitching supremacy. Gomez chalked up this tenth victory in eleven games as the New York Yankees took a close one from Detroit, 5 to 4. Grove scored his eleventh victory of the year and his tenth in succession in beating Cleveland, 3 to 1.

Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig knocked in all five Yankee runs, each hitting a home run and a single. The Yankees' most timely blow was delivered by Charley Berry of the Chicago White Sox. Two were out in the ninth inning and the bases filled when he tripped to centre, defeating Washington 3 to 2.

Goose Goslin delivered a home run, a triple and a single and drove in four runs as St. Louis Browns crushed Boston, 11 to 4.

Brooklyn, June 9.—Chicago Cubs staged a successful uphill fight yesterday to defeat Brooklyn, 7 to 6, in fourteen innings, and regain the National League lead from the defeated Boston Braves.

Trailing 2 to 5 at the end of the sixth, the Cubs tied the count in the eighth, and Charley Root out-pitched Jack Quinn in a six-inning duel between relief pitchers. Root allowed only one hit, while Quinn weakened in the eighth and ninth, allowing three runs, including a triple by Gabby Hartnett and a double by Bill Jurgens, brought in the winning run.

The Cubs lost the services of Charley Grimm in the first inning when he dislocated his wrist in a play at first base. R. H. E. Chicago 7 11 2
Brooklyn 6 5 1
Batteries—Bush, Smith, Root and Hartnett; Hemaley, Clark, Quinn and Sukerforth, Lopez.

Boston, June 9.—St. Louis Cardinals yesterday came out of their batting slump and captured the series opening by pounding Brooklyn pitchers for a twenty hit and a 15 to 8 victory in a weird game that lasted almost three hours.

The defeat pushed the Braves into second place in the league standing. "Socks" Siebold started on the mound for the tribe and his mates gave him a four-run lead in the first inning. The world champions, however, tied the score in the third and in the weird fifth session blasted four Boston pitchers for seven more tallies. They added to their lead in each of the last three frames.

Cleveland, June 9.—The Cleveland Indians' hopes of beating "Lefty" Grove after eight straight setbacks in the last two years, rose in the seventh inning yesterday when Porter hit a home run, but Grove tied the score at 1 to 1 when he caught Harder's first pitch for a circuit clutch over the right-field screen in the eighth. The Athletics finished in front, 3 to 1.

Blasoph, Cochran, Simmons and Coleman followed Grove with singles to bring in the other two scores, allowing the Athletics to rise from fifth place over the Indians and Detroit, who lost to New York.

SLOW FIGHT

San Francisco, June 9.—Sammy James, Sacramento negro, and Pietro Georgi, Buffalo, engaged in a slow, uninteresting eight-round draw here yesterday evening. The pair fell into a clinch in the opening round and seemed unable to break from each other's clasp until the bell at the end of each session.

SHIP CHIEF TAKES LIFE

V. Presley, General Manager of Alaska Steamship Co., Found Dead in Seattle

Seattle, June 9.—An all-day search ended yesterday evening with the finding of the body of V. Presley, forty-two, general manager of the Alaska Steamship Company, slumped beside a bullet wound in the head. A pistol lay beside the body.

Leaving his office at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, Presley told his secretary he would return within an hour. By noon he had failed to reappear and a description of his car was broadcast to all police power cars.

The abandoned machine was found at 10 o'clock yesterday evening in West Seattle and a short time later a search of nearby woods revealed the body.

Presley, a former University of Washington football star, returned to Seattle several weeks ago from Alaska. He had been under a severe mental strain, company officials said to-day, and seemed to be on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

During his years in Alaska, he was general manager of the vast Ogishheim Trust for a long time, including the Kennecott Mine and the Copper River and Northwestern Railway. A "welcome home" banquet was held for him on his return here.

Their examination, coroner's deputies said, showed the bullet had entered his head near the left ear. Powder burns were found about the wound.

On his person was a cheque book showing a balance of $1,125. He is survived by a widow, a son and a daughter.

WEST INDIES GENERALLY

Close 1 p.m. June 10.

From ports in the Orient and Honolulu, the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Asia should be along the Rithet pier at 2.30 o'clock in the morning. She is expected to drop anchor at the William Head quarantine station at 6 o'clock. For Victoria the liner has passengers and cargo. She will proceed to Vancouver from this port. There is a good list of travelers aboard the liner this voyage, many of them being Orient residents en route to Europe to spend the summer.

IN THE YUKON
J. P. Forde, divisional engineer for the Federal Department of Public Works, has left on the government yacht Walronde for Alaska and the Yukon. Mr. Forde will leave the Walronde at Skagway, and will make an inspection trip of government works along the Yukon River. He will be absent from his office in Victoria for about two months.

OUT TO-MORROW
The freighter Bayana, which is loading grain at Ogden Point for European ports, will probably get away to sea some time to-morrow morning. This morning there were still 1,100 tons of grain to be put aboard. Since yesterday morning the spouts from the big bins have been watering into the holds of the ship, and there has been a steady stream of grain pouring into the ship.

The handsome steam yacht Coreeus from Vancouver came into the inner harbor this morning, and tied up at the Puget Sound Navigation Company's wharf. She is one of the West Coast of Canada yachts in the northwest.

IN DRYDOCK
For annual overhaul before commencing her summer service to Alaska and the West Coast of Vancouver Island, the C.P.R. steamer Princess Margaret is in drydock at the Dominion Government drydock at Esquimalt. She will take an Alaska sailing from Vancouver Saturday evening, and on her return will take over the West Coast of Vancouver Island run with the Princess Maguina, leaving the Alaska service to the Princess Louise, the Princess Alice and the Princess Charlotte.

TO HUNT FOR COSMIC RAY

Party Here This Evening Aboard Ss. Queen to Make Search in Arctic District

En route to Alaska to search for the little-known, much-discussed cosmic ray, Dr. Ralph D. Bennett, physicist of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will be a visitor in Victoria this evening aboard the liner Queen when she will make a 10,000-mile journey to lay a trap for something that no one has ever seen.

At Fort Yukon, north of the Arctic Circle, Dr. Bennett will set his first "trap" for the cosmic ray. Later he will make observations at Kenecott, Alaska, and will return to Barter's National Park in Washington state, late in July for similar experiments. On his return east he will continue his observations at Toga Pass, Yosemite National Park and Mount Evans, Colorado.

His "trap" consists of elaborate and delicate scientific apparatus, including a large metal cylinder which will be filled with gas. Effects of the cosmic ray on this gas-filled chamber will be observed over long periods.

Other similar expeditions are being sent out to various points about the earth, and the combined results may give a lead. Dr. Bennett says to the source and effects of the ray. His party

WILKINS PLANS ANTARCTIC TRIP

Olo, June 9.—Now that H. G. Wilkins, young British explorer, has postponed his projected Antarctic expedition, Sir Hubert Wilkins has announced he is planning to go to the Antarctic this autumn.

Sir Hubert's intention is to cross the Antarctic continent from the "Bay of Whales" to the Wendell Sea—the reverse of the route Wilkins is planning.

He went to Alesund to inspect several large sealers which are specially fitted for polar waters, and might be suitable for an Antarctic voyage. He also conferred with Prof. Otto Sverdrup in Bergen over the possibilities of another submarine expedition to the Arctic next year.

will make no spectacular mountaineering ventures such as that which led Allen Carpe and Theodore Koven to their death on the Mulrow Glacier last month during a similar expedition.

"About all that is known of the cosmic ray," he said, "is that it is a ray of great penetrating force coming from some point outside the earth. Whether it can ever be put to any practical use is not known."

ANNUAL HUNT FOR SEA LIONS

Givenchy to Get Away to Rookeries Shortly; Ms. Karise to Load For Arctic

As soon as the trial of the United States fishing boat St. Patrick is over, the Government Fishery patrol steamer Givenchy will be off on her annual sea-lion hunt to the northern rookeries. The Givenchy will be in Victoria tomorrow, tied up alongside the Canadian National piers in the inner harbor.

The St. Patrick case will come up early next week and will not occupy many days so that the Givenchy should be away with her machine guns and rifles within the next few days. This is an annual expedition carried out by the Canadian Government. The Givenchy will go to Vancouver to sail for the sea-lion haunts on northern coasts.

Company, the Danish motorship Karise will arrive at Vancouver late this morning to load for a voyage into the Arctic in place of the steamer Baychoy, which was wrecked in the ice near Point Barrow last season and which has been totally destroyed. It is possible the Karise may come here or to Esquimalt before the Givenchy departs to load. She will be commanded by one of the experienced ice-masters of the company's Arctic services. He has not yet been named.

Baychoy, after his return from the Arctic several months ago, left for Esquimalt to make a full report of the Baychoy's predicament to his head office in London.

TRAGEDY SERIES STALKS FAMILY

Three Different Accidents Take Toll of Puyallup Residents

Puyallup, Wash., June 9.—A seemingly relentless fate which has been pursuing the family for five years again struck yesterday when a truck in which were riding Mrs. Christina Richards, thirty-four, and her three children, Robert, twenty; Tilden, forty, and Gertrude, seventeen, was demolished by a Northern Pacific train and the family killed.

Two years ago the husband and father, Uriah, was killed by an automobile at McMullen, near here, and in October, 1927, three other children, Margaret, Herman and Delbert, were killed when their auto was struck by a train near Orting.

Eye-witnesses yesterday asserted that Engineer Ray Jacobus of Tacoma gave the usual crossing signal with both bell and whistle. It was thought possible that the driver of the truck, supposed to have been Robert, became confused.

Mother Church Holds Meeting

First Church of Christ
Scientist Views Growth of Last Year

Annual Meeting Held in Boston This Week; Fine Reports Are Presented

Boston, Mass., June 9.—The steady progress of the Christian Science movement during a year marked by a general slowing down in human activities was emphasized here this week in reports presented at the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist. Members from many parts of the world—more than 6,000 in all—listened to reports of the various departments of the organization, which told of steady attainment in its numerous activities.

Close at hand, in the shadow of the dome of the church edifice, members beheld an inspiring indication of this growing activity in a structural outline of steel and stone rapidly taking form into the new home of The Christian Science Publishing Society, designed to serve an increasing need for the promotion and publication of the periodicals.

Announcement was made of the election of the following officers:
President—Hon. Ralph O. Brewster, Dexter, Maine.
Clerk—Erna W. Palmer, Brookline, Mass.

Treasurer—Edward L. Ripley, Brookline, Mass.
First Reader—Gordon V. Comer, Denver, Colo.

Second Reader—Miss Lucia C. Coulson, London, Eng.

Brewster, graduated from Bowdoin College and from Harvard Law School, and in 1928 received the honorary degree of LL.D. from the University of Maine. Mr. Brewster served his country during the World War, and he has served his state in various capacities, including those of Representative to the Legislature, Senator, and from 1926 to 1929 as Governor.

Mr. Comer was born in Frederick, Rice County, Kansas, and received his education in the public schools in Kansas and Colorado, supplementing his school work with private instruction in business courses.

Mr. Comer was in the real estate and investment business from the time he left school until he became a Christian Science practitioner. For nearly three years he has served as Christian Science Committee on Publication for Colorado.

Miss Lucia C. Coulson was born in London, and received her early education from French, German, and English governesses, finishing on the Continent in art, music and languages.

In July, 1922, Miss Coulson became a member of the board of lecturership of The Mother Church and since then has traveled extensively in the United States, in South Africa, and in Europe, lecturing in three languages. She was a member of the Normal Class of the Board of Education of the Massachusetts Metaphysical College in 1931, receiving a certificate as a teacher of Christian Science.

RIGHTEOUS GOVERNMENT
The firm support of righteous government in thought and word and deed was urged by Robert E. Bufum of Boston, retiring president, in an address leading up to the introduction of his successor. "At this time when lawlessness and crime seem so evident in the United States," said Mr. Bufum, "it is imperative that we, as Christian Scientists, firmly stand on the side of law and order, and that we unreservedly support righteous government."

In his address the new president stated in part:

"The disciples of Christian Science face with others the challenge of testing time to determine whether their conception of the universe is founded on words of sand or on the rock of understanding that is equal to every test. Out into the highways and byways goes the disciple of Christian Science to demonstrate this capacity to meet the problems common to mankind. The world turns more and more to ask the reason for our faith, and can find its answer only in lives that are transformed. This assemblage furnishes testimony evidence, assembled from every quarter of this globe, that a practical religion is the desire of mankind. To the extent that disciples of Christian Science shall exemplify its teachings for suffering humanity, hungry after the things that shall really satisfy, to that extent the world will be restored to the path from which it has wandered."

"It has been our privilege to witness and record inspiring growth during the past year," was the message read by Mrs. M. Rosemond Wright, manager of the department of branches and practitioners.

"We have had communications," she continued, "from more groups of Christian Scientists who are holding meetings preparatory to applying for recognition as branches of The Mother Church than in any previous year."

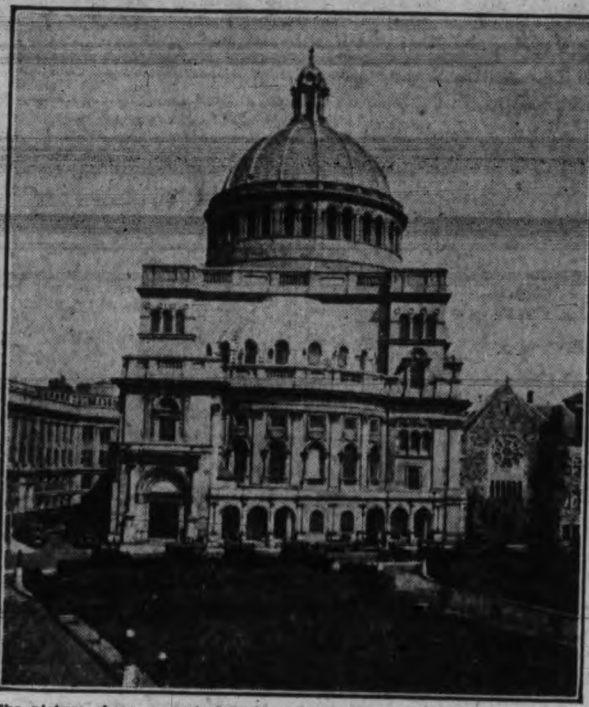

NEW BRANCHES
Thirty-eight Christian Science Societies have qualified for the title of church, and ninety-two branch churches have been added. During the year the first branches of The Mother Church were recognized in Greece, Belgium, and Czechoslovakia. The Mother Church now has 2,592 branch churches and societies; also forty-two college or university organizations formed and conducted in accordance with the Manual of The Mother Church.

In a message from The Christian Science Board of directors, read by George Wendell Adams, chairman of the Board, 1931-1932, brief mention of the new publishing house was made.

He said: "The opportunity extended every Christian Science organization and individual to contribute to the new publishing house has met with a magnificent response. Churches and societies have responded generously, some without solicitation having substantially increased their original subscriptions. Thus far enough has been paid in to meet current disbursements, but the heaviest demands will come later as construction progresses. We are confident there will be no cessation in voluntary contributions until the word is passed that no more is needed."

"During the past year every community, large and small, has had unprecedented demands made upon it from those who have been plunged into penury and want. Rarely, if ever, has there been so great need in every Christian community to heed the words of James, 'If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food, and one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled; notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body, what doth it profit?' Again it is proved the oft-quoted words of our Leader, it would show Mr. Mackenzie King,

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MOTHER CHURCH

The picture shows an exterior view of the Mother Church of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, where the annual meeting was held this week.

Mary Baker Eddy, in Science and Health, 'Living does not impoverish us in the service of our Maker,' neither does withholding enrich us."

From The Christian Science board of lecturership came the announcement of the opening of new fields for the presentation of lectures on Christian Science and great public attendance. The estimated number of persons attending these lectures was 3,427,711.

For the first time lectures were given before audiences in Athens, Rome, Java, Batavia, Bandung, Bombay and Calcutta. A lecture was given at Shanghai despite disturbed conditions there.

The admission of new members has kept pace with expansion and progress, was the report of Erna W. Palmer, clerk of The Mother Church.

CHEERING RESULTS
Belief work was an important part of the activities of this department. This work, Mr. Palmer's statement indicated, "has brought cheering results."

He described it as much "more than the mere relieving of material needs and the healing of bodily ills. The work began in January last year in the drought areas of the southern Mississippi Valley was continued until September. Relief has been given in Germany, Estonia, Finland, Poland, Canada and the United States. A contribution was made to flood relief work in China."

Roland B. Harrison, manager of The Christian Science Publishing Society, reported that "The Monitor has strengthened its reputation as a reliable chronicler of world events and who at times disagreed sharply with the policies of the government, that he (Mr. Rhodes), had some measure of support."

GIVE AND TAKE AT CONFERENCE
Canadian Manufacturers' Association Hears Minister and President

Ottawa, June 9.—While the coming Imperial Economic Conference may not produce a miracle, it will constitute an epoch in history. The Canadian Manufacturers' Association is doing everything in its power to contribute to the success of the conference.

Thus W. C. Coulter of Toronto, new president of the association, yesterday declared the attitude of his organization toward the meeting of Empire representatives in Ottawa late next month.

"It is sometimes said there will be a great diversity of interests at the conference," declared Mr. Coulter. "That is quite true. It is always the case when great issues are at stake, but compromise and conciliation are familiar traits of character, and solutions can be found for most problems."

Mr. Coulter said the association did not share the fear that Canada's "natural and proper desire to promote and safeguard her own productive departments" might limit the accomplishments of the conference. "We do not share these misgivings," he said, "because it is now generally accepted that each British country will promote its own development, so far as that course is economic and practical."

The president's reference to the conference was made in the course of an address to the association at the final dinner closing the sixty-first annual convention here yesterday evening.

Hon. E. N. Macdonald, Dominion Minister of Finance, addressed the gathering, giving it as his view the record of Canada during a period of severe depression had been an enviable one, and that serious problems had been met and overcome.

COUNTRIES REPRESENTED
Yesterday evening's gathering brought together representatives of the governments of Japan, Belgium, Italy, China, Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand, and, of course, Canada. Also seated at the head table was Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party of Canada.

Presentation by Mr. Coulter of a large silver loving cup to W. H. Miner, past president, on behalf of the members of the association, featured the evening.

The picture of the Canada of the future was suggested to the gathering by Mr. Coulter in referring to the value of the annual meeting in the eyes of the present it was perhaps difficult to imagine continued development and expansion of industry, he said.

"Our answers, planned for the Canada of to-day," said Mr. Coulter, "should we not plan for the Canada of the future?"

TWO KINDS OF SINS
Mr. Rhodes caused some amusement by expressing grateful thanks and some surprise for the warmth of his welcome in view of the last budget. He feared that, from the point of view of some of those present, he had been guilty of "sins of commission and also of omission." The sins of omission, he said, constituted his failure to respond to suggestions for increased protection which he had received.

He was pleased with the welcome accorded to him, said the Finance Minister with a smile, particularly because he had been able to get rid of his rheumatic aches and pains.

So many terrible sufferers from rheumatism in this vicinity have been freed from their rheumatic agony in less than a week that McParlane and Vancouver Drug Stores urge you to buy a bottle of Ru-Ma to-day and begin now to get rid of your rheumatic aches and pains.

CONFIDENCE IN BRITAIN GROWS

Sir W. Clark Tells Canadian Manufacturers of Economic Stability Gains

Ottawa, June 9.—High confidence in Great Britain and her return to stability in the midst of present world-wide economic conditions was expressed here yesterday by Sir William Clark, The British High Commissioner to Canada, was addressing the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at a luncheon.

"Confidence," Sir William declared, "is now very much in evidence there and is being displayed through the ordinary channels of banking and finance; and indeed the problem which faces our authorities, so far as the capital items in our expenditure are concerned, is less to protect the pound sterling than to prevent or neutralize an excessive influx of funds from abroad, which might prove embarrassing later on. The bank rate has been reduced by successive stages to two and one-half per cent and may go still lower."

"British Government securities are now definitely on a four per cent basis and the question of possible conversion on our huge five per cent war loan to a lower rate of interest is being freely canvassed in financial journals and other responsible quarters. Then there had been a certain improvement in employment and trade in Great Britain, he asserted."

"It is a pleasant change to find something in the trade statistics which is encouraging instead of adding to the general gloom. These tendencies, slight as they are, are a good omen for the Imperial Conference."

"HURCH FINANCES

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, June 9.—Discussion of finances occupied the attention of the synod meeting of the Anglican Diocese of Rupert's Land at the concluding sessions here to-day. The policy of investing synod funds in mortgages and real estate was canvassed and referred to a committee for further investigation. A report from the committee was to be considered later to-day.

TO RECEIVE DEGREE
Montreal, June 9.—Lady DeLoraine has consented to receive an honorary degree from the University of Montreal on June 24.

NEW DUTY IS COSTLY TO U.S.

Seattle, June 9.—J. H. Bloedel, prominent northwest lumberman, says he believes the new $3 tariff on Canadian lumber will prove more costly to the United States than beneficial.

Imports of lumber from Canada into the United States had been inconsequential in the past, he said, and retaliation by Canadians for losing their few United States customers had already been started.

Whereas a large proportion of United States lumber exports had been taken in the past by British Empire countries, he added, Canadian lumbermen were now in a position to obtain preferential consideration in those markets. Similarly, Washington fruit growers were likely to be excluded from Canadian markets, he said.

The Bloedel-Donovan lumber mills, which he heads, have extensive lumber holdings on both sides of the Canadian-United States border, but investments in this country are nearly three times as large as those in Canada, according to Mr. Bloedel.

Montreal, June 9.—The new United States duty against lumber was "prohibitive" and would certainly tend to reduce the output of Canadian lumber, S. P. Rutherford, president of the Montreal Lumber Association, stated here yesterday.

The duty, according to official word received by the Montreal Board of Trade, is rough and plain or dressed one or more sides, except flooring maple, birch and beech, $3 per 1,000 feet board measure.

"It is a serious blow to the industry," Mr. Rutherford stated. "Lumber interests in eastern Canada had shipped large quantities of white pine, hardwood and spruce to the United States annually, he said. With this new tariff becoming effective June 21, there would be a large curtailment of orders, he said."
